FRESH TROOPS FOR JAPANESE

With Reinforcements of 60,000 Men, Immediate Advance Is Expected.

GENERAL MA ACTIVE

Chinese Leader's Force Also Increased and His Movements Are Suspicious.

DOWAGER'S BIRTHDAY FETE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MUKDEN, Nov. 17.—It is reported that 30,000 Japanese troops have been landed at Niuchwang and 30,000 others at Pitsewo, and that a turning movement on the Russian right is expected.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The Lokal Anzeiger prints a dispatch from Mukden today, saying:

"It is confirmed from various quarters that the Japanese have double-tracked the railroad from Port Dalny to Liao-Yang. Thirty trains are running daily.

"The Chinese Gen. Ma has received reinforcements again, and has installed further Japanese military instructors. The Russians regard him with deep suspicion, and are keeping a sharp watch on his actions.

"Gen. Kuropatkin has issued an order of the day thanking the sanitary corps for the rapid transportation from Mukden October 8 to October 28, of 828 wounded officers and 28,479 wounded men, and 191 sick officers and 3,827 sick men."

HARBIN, Nov. 17.—Orders have been given to the Japanese troops to shoot anyone in Chinese garb observed approaching the line, for fear they may be Russians in disguise. Notices have been posted offering a reward of $25 for every Chinese spy captured.

The Chinese bandits are very active. The Japanese are enlisting Chinese militia hired in the village of Syobayiki, at 30 cents a day.

There have been numerous skirmishes, in which a number of Chinese bandits have been killed or captured by Russians.

Jack Frost in Command.

MUKDEN, Nov. 16.—Via Tien-Tsin, Nov. 17.—Four days of sharp cold has silenced the artillery and infantry fire between the opposing positions, and has driven the soldiers into their dugouts along the entire intrenched line.

The apparent impossibility for either side to eject the other from their burrows, and the fact that in the event one side succeeded in advancing it could not dig the other out of its cantonments on account of the frost, seems to promise a winter's inactivity.

The wells along the lines are dry, and both sides use the Shakho river, where the soldiers approach unarmed and get water under recognized mutual sanction not to fire on a single soldier. Here the noble art of war is confined to fisticuffs and swapping cigarettes, jack knives and food.

Familiarities are inevitable where long lines are in continued contact. The armies have now been stationary for so long that they are drawing supplies of fuel and horse forage from the distant rear, all other supplies being exhausted.

The perfunctory ceremonies of introducing the three days celebration of the birthday of the dowager empress of China began November 13. At the Drum tower, and also at the Bell tower, which are features of the main street of all capitals, large shrines were erected enclosing a tablet inscribed with the word "Jansou," which like "Banzai" means "Ten thousand ages to the dynasty."

In Honor of Dowager.

Before the tablet are food offerings and also incense. Last night a hundred ornamental, fancy lanterns and transparencies with congratulatory inscriptions were displayed in the main streets, but not a single soul came for the purpose of viewing them.

Today being the dowager's birthday, flags and streamers were to be seen in all the streets. The Tartar General Talhochi, and the territorial officials kotowed to the dowager's tablet in the deserted ancestral palace, and the period of ten days' prayers in the dynastic shrines about this, "China's second capital," continues.

The Tartar general, with the officials of the five boards, also the native military mandarin, dined with Gen. Kuropatkin at the Confucian temple, outside the West Gate, with the native guilds, which bear the expenses of the birthday celebration.

Private advices from Pekin contain warnings that the emperor is increasingly inane, sickly and insignificant, and the dowager thinner and older, and lacking in cordiality to foreigners, although perfunctory in matters referring to foreign relations, omitting former courtesies, while the most conspicuous "reform" is said to be the new, corrupt board of war.

Japanese Seize Heights.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 17.—(Special Cable.)—The Japanese are continuing a hurried movement eastward. Gen. Kuropatkin's scouts report all the heights around the Russian army's right flank are occupied by the enemy's advance guards.

Gen. Grippenberg left Vilia today for the far east. Gen. Kaulbars is ill of bronchitis. The supplementary mobilization in the St. Petersburg district will occur December 21.

Gen. Kuropatkin in a dispatch dated November 16, says:

"Yesterday evening the Japanese assumed the offensive against our positions near Sinchinpu, but the attacks were repulsed. At dawn the same day our sharpshooters ambushed 52 dismounted Japanese dragoons. The sharpshooters attempted to make prisoners of them, but the Japanese resisted and were all killed or wounded except three, who were captured.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE RUSSIAN EASTERN ARMY, VIA SHENGKING, Nov. 17.—Gen. Skrydloff has returned from a journey in the direction of Vladivostok. Gen. Kuropatkin intends to visit Vladivostok provided the situation here remains quiet.

Enough of It!

REPUBLICANS WIN THE FIRST ROUND

Colorado Supreme Court Decides It Has Jurisdiction Over State's Elections.

COMPELS CANVASS OF VOTE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

DENVER, COL., Nov. 17.—Gov. Peabody made some progress in his fight to retain the governorship today through favorable decisions of the supreme court, though the goal is yet far from attainment.

The court denied the motion of the Democrats who questioned the jurisdiction of the court to take charge of the Denver election. The court granted the application of the Republicans to compel the elections commission to canvass the vote by wards, and to use the figures in totals written by the judges, instead of the tallies written on the page. From both of these decisions Justice Steele dissented.

The court also decided to go ahead with the contempt cases against persons charged with interfering with the watchers of the court, and this afternoon took testimony.

The contest involves 11 representatives and three senators. Should the Republicans win, thereby securing undoubted control of the legislature, this body which canvasses the vote for state officers would be in a position to throw out enough counties to re-elect Gov. Peabody.

Prior to election the supreme court, on affidavits of attorneys representing the Republicans, appointed court watchers in 99 precincts in this city in which it was alleged fraud was contemplated. After the election, 27 men were arrested, charged with disobeying the court's order regarding interference with the watchers appointed by it. The Republicans hope to have the precincts at which the defendants worked election day, thrown out.

As the official count has progressed throughout the state, Adams has gained. His plurality is now nearly 13,000. Gov. Peabody cannot win, therefore, by merely throwing out the local precincts. Other counties which gave Adams heavy pluralities must be thrown out also.

BLACK CAN HAVE PLACE IN PRESIDENT'S CABINET

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The World tomorrow will say:

PENNSYLVANIANS CALL ON MR. ROOSEVELT

The President Is Congratulated on His Great Victory in the Election.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Roosevelt today received the congratulations of the Pennsylvania club of this city through a committee appointed to call at the White House. Resolutions that had been adopted were presented. The committee consisted of Judge Henry M. Foote and J. D. Dubois of the state department, William B. Stewart and William G. Russell of the postoffice department, Charles Meier, first vice president, and Robert T. Frailey, secretary of the club. The club has over 500 members, most of whom are in the departments of the city. In presenting the resolutions Judge Foote said:

"It was considered proper by the club that inasmuch as Pennsylvania was the first state to indorse your candidacy, which was ratified by the people of that imperial commonwealth by the unprecedented majority of 495,000 votes, as great a majority, sir, within 100,000 as was given by the combined solid south for any opponent, and in view also of the fact that a distinguished citizen of our state, himself a member of this organization and until recently one of your official family, rendered conspicuous services in bringing about that result, that it would not only be an honor, but a very great pleasure to extend to you the congratulations and best wishes of this organization on the great victory which you have achieved in the contest."

MACEDONIANS WILL DIE FROM COLD AND FAMINE

Refugees from Turkish Atrocities in Vicinity of Adrianople Reported to Be in Terrible Plight.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—The American board of missions today received a cablegram from W. W. Peet, its treasurer at Constantinople, announcing that the people in the vicinity of Adrianople, in Macedonia, are suffering terrible distress, death by freezing and starvation staring them in the face.

At the time of the disturbances last year, from 12,000 to 20,000 fled from Adrianople into Bulgaria. The population of many Turkish villages also fled to other parts of Turkey. These people have returned to find their homes in ruins, nothing remaining but the bare land.

The Rev. Dr. George D. Marsh, the missionary in charge of the relief work, has supplied them with tools with which to rebuild their ruined homes and to till the soil. There can be no hope of further crops until next summer. Many will have to be fed during the winter to keep them from starving.

Dr. Marsh says, "Many will die in spite of all our efforts."

TWO STREET CARS STRUCK BY TRAIN

Four Persons Are Killed at Grand Trunk Crossing in Toronto, Ont.

CONTROL LOST BY MOTORMAN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TORONTO, ONT., Nov. 17.—A street car with trailer attached got beyond control of the motorman and crashed through the guard gates at the Queen street crossing of the Grand Trunk railway tonight. A freight train struck the forward car, grinding it to splinters. Every passenger on both cars was injured, two dying soon after being taken from the wreckage and two at the hospital.

ONE-YEAR-OLD CHILD of J. Robertson; the baby was thrown from its mother's arms and both its legs were cut off.

MRS. MINNIE MAHAFFY, internally injured; died at hospital.

RUSSEL T. STEPHENS, internally injured; died at hospital.

The forward car was struck fairly in the center and completely demolished. The vestibule from which the motorman had jumped was carried up the tracks 100 yards. The trailer was overturned and all the windows were smashed, but the body of the car remained intact.

A warrant was issued tonight for the arrest of William Armstrong, the motorman, on a charge of manslaughter.

TARIFF REVISION IN HANDS OF CONGRESS

President Will Make No Specific Recommendations in His Coming Message.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Roosevelt is apparently yielding to the opinion that if the tariff is to be even slightly revised during the next two years it should be done at an extra session of congress next spring. He is now consulting every arriving member of the senate and house on the extra session proposition.

Two very important men in congress have been won over to some sort of tariff change. These are Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, chairman of the committee on finance of the senate, and Representative Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house.

Mr. Payne believes that some change in the Dingley schedules can be made very soon without any disturbance to business. Senator Aldrich's only remark on coming from the White House was, "We shall do the wise thing," but he has expressed to his friends his view that some time during the new administration the tariff will have to be changed, and he is now regarded as willing to have the attempt made.

It seems to be certain that the president will leave this matter entirely in the hands of congress, and will make no specific recommendations in his coming message.

AUTOMOBILE TRAIN A SUCCESS

Tested With German Generals and Cabinet Ministers as Passengers—Makes Fifteen Miles an Hour.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—An automobile train with four cars was tested today, with Field Marshal Count von Schlieffen, chief of the general staff, and several cabinet ministers and generals as passengers. By means of special couplings the cars were drawn after the automobile around sharp curves, keeping the same track. The velocity was 15 miles an hour. The train went over meadows at the rate of eight miles an hour.

The object of such trains is transportation for war or industrial purposes.

Japanese Officer's "Tub" Under Fire

The Japanese officer, in spite of shot and shell, will have his hot bath in the evening. This sketch was made in a village outside Port Arthur. The earthenware jar in which the officer is taking his bath is found in all Manchurian houses, and generally holds the drinking water for the family. In the small bowl on the stump of a tree the officer washes himself with soap, and sluices the suds off with cold water before getting into the jar, for it has to serve for several of his comrades.—From a Sketch by Frederic Villiers in the Illustrated London News.

GROUND UNDER HOOFS OF IRON

John G. Heckscher, Judge at Horse Show, Is Seriously Injured.

SOCIETY IS SHOCKED

Accident Took Place in the Ring, and Under Eyes of Thousands.

E. F. HAWLEY WINS A PRIZE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Spectators were thrown into intense excitement tonight at the horse show in Madison Square garden when John G. Heckscher, secretary of the National Horse Show association of America was run down and trampled on by a pair of horses on exhibition in the ring.

Women screamed and men crowded toward the ring. Before the excitement passed several women fainted. Many believed that Mr. Heckscher had been killed, as, half conscious, he was dragged from under the hoofs of the horses.

In the judging of pairs of horses, shown to runabouts, for the R. M. Stiver's prize, Mr. Heckscher, who had been near the Twenty-seventh street entrance of the garden, started for the judge's stand in the center of the ring. In the ring at the time were the horses Buster Brown and Katzenjammer Kid, driven by Mrs. Edward R. Ladew for Glen Cove, L. I.

Mrs. Ladew had pulled the horses up from a rather rapid gait, and Mr. Heckscher attempted to pass in front of them, when one of the horses lunged forward and struck him. In an instant Mr. Heckscher was down and the animal was tramping him. His head and shoulders were struck several times by the hoofs. When help reached him he was almost unconscious and was bleeding profusely.

Skull May Be Fractured.

Mr. Heckscher was at once removed to his home, where the fear was expressed that he may have concussion of the brain or a fracture of the skull. Mr. Heckscher is the father-in-law of Mayor George B. McClellan.

In the afternoon and tonight the crowds at the garden were up to the records of yesterday. Society was out in force, and the boxes were filled. The event of the afternoon was the contest for the $500 challenge cup given by the American Coaching club. This was for the best road team, four-in-hand, shown to a coach, and driven by the owner. Alfred G. Vanderbilt entered his blue ribbon winner Venture, and was again given the first prize. L. L. Biddle was the only other contestant. Miss Ella Ross of England had entered but did not compete, because the color of her coach is turquoise blue, which is not an accepted color in this country.

Pearl, a brown mare owned by Edwin H. Weatherbee, won the blue ribbon in the class of jumpers at six feet. Fourteen horses entered the contest, and gave excellent exhibitions of jumping at distances from five to six feet. On several occasions the riders were almost thrown from their saddles, and the spectators were repeatedly thrilled by the daring performances.

During the recess Black Friar, an ebony colored stallion, owned by Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., demolished two small fences erected in the incloseure for practice jumping, and nearly threw his driver over his head. The horse was cut severely on the fore legs, and was taken out of the ring.

Pittsburgher Gets First Prize.

In the registered Shetland stallion class, E. F. Hawley of Pittsburgh took first prize with his entry, Bressay, while T. L. Watts, Jr., took second and third prizes, and high commendation with Toronto, Red Fox and Monte Carlo.

In the class for brood mares other than Shetlands, G. Howard Davidson's two entries took the first and second prizes.

What is said to be the biggest price ever paid for a pony was the $8,000 paid at the horse show during the afternoon for Berkeley Bantam, the champion bay pony owned by William Carr of London, England, and South Manchester, Conn., which was sold to Judge William H. Moore of Chicago.

DROWNED HIS ASSAILANT.

Young Man Held Robber's Head Under Water Until He Perished to Save His Own Life.

LA CROSSE, WIS., Nov. 17.—George Tuchek, a young man of good reputation, has given himself up to the police, saying that he had killed a stranger by holding the man's head under water. The police have found the body, but have not yet identified it.

Tuchek claims the stranger attempted to rob him, but that he threw the highwayman down an embankment twice and then, to save his own life, held the man's head under water until death ended the struggle.

CATLETTSBURG DAM OPENED

First Work in Tapping Big Sandy Coal Field Is Accomplished.

THOUSANDS PRESENT

Ohio Valley Improvement Association Delegates Attend and Given a Banquet.

FEATURES OF PROCEEDINGS

Special Telegram From Fred L. Long, Staff Correspondent.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 17.—Catlettsburg was the center of interest for the delegates to the tenth annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement association today. Catlettsburg is in Kentucky, right at the mouth of the Big Sandy river, and yesterday marked the greatest epoch in the history of the progress of the town. It was the occasion of the opening of dam No. 1 in the series which are to be built in that river.

The improvement of the Big Sandy means the opening of the greatest coal field in the world. The celebrated Pittsburgh field is not nearly so large as the one which lies up this river, and it has never been touched because of the difficulty of getting the product to market. It will be years before the improvement is completed if the present rate of progress is maintained, but the Catlettsburg people were just as happy today as if they were running six-foot boats up and down the stream and had a regular line of packets going up the Tug Fork. They felt that the dream of their lives was about to be realized and that Catlettsburg and all the valley thereabouts is bound to become a manufacturing section second only in importance to Pittsburgh.

The dam which was opened yesterday is the highest moveable dam in the world, and has been examined by engineers from all over the world. It is looked upon as a triumph in engineering skill.

Salute from Old Grover.

The convention adjourned today at noon and traveled in special cars to the mouth of the Big Sandy, where the visitors were met with a salute from "Old Grover," a six-inch cannon captured during the Mexican war and brought to Catlettsburg during the first Cleveland campaign and christened for the Democratic leader. About 500 school children were out, lined up along the main street of the town, and behind them was the entire population of Catlettsburg, Kenova, Ashland and several other cities in the neighborhood had sent their quota to swell the crowd, which went down from Huntington, and about 5,000 people had gathered to witness the ceremonies.

W. A. Patton acted as chairman of the meeting at the dam and Engineer Scholze, who had charge of the work, made the speech of presentation which opened it to the public. John F. Hager of Ashland, Ky., accepted it in the name of Kentucky and John Y. Fitzpatrick for West Virginia. The Big Sandy is the dividing line between the states, so both are interested in the improvement.

Immediately following the ceremonies at the dam the delegates adjourned to the Catlettsburg court house, where a magnificent banquet had been arranged by the Catlettsburg board of trade. About 500 sat down to the tables and in the number was about 200 of Kentucky's and West Virginia's most beautiful women.

Convention Proceedings at Banquet.

When the convention adjourned at noon it was on motion to meet again in executive session at the banquet, as it was desired to get the speeches which were to be delivered there inserted as part of the official record. Col. John L. Vance, president of the improvement association, therefore occupied the chair, while W. A. Patton acted as toastmaster. The Hon. M. Williams of Catlettsburg spoke and then George H. Anderson of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce talked on "Ohio Valley Seaports." "Our State" was answered by the Hon. Albert S. Berry and "The Ohio Valley Improvement Association" by Col. John L. Vance. Prof. B. F. Forgey responded to "The Power of Publicity." The bit of the evening was made by Edgar Hagar in the toast "Dan It." It was one case in which the sentiment met with a hearty response from a large assemblage. Mrs. Livia Simpson-Poffenbarger, who owns and edits the State Gazette at Point Pleasant, and who was the first newspaper woman in West Virginia, responded to "On to Progress." Others who spoke were Prof. J. B. Leach, on "Water;" the Hon. F. B. Posey on "The Lower Ohio;" Capt. J. F. Ellison on "Steamboatmen, Present and Future," and the Hon. Albert Bettinger on "The Ohio." Capt. John F. Dravo of Beaver, Congressman B. B. Dovenor and others also talked.

Cairo has been decided upon as the place of meeting next year. At the session of the convention this morning Portsmouth, O., Marietta and Pittsburgh, all of which cities had booms on for the meeting next year, withdrew in favor of the Illinois town and it was unanimously chosen.

Big Crowd Expected to Go.

It is the intention to work up the enthusiasm all along the river the coming year and take an immense crowd to the foot of the Ohio. The Pittsburghers who are here are especially enthusiastic, and they promise to go to Cairo at least 100 strong. Portsmouth is practically promised the meeting for the following year.

The officers who have presided over the destinies of the association the past year will serve again this coming year. They will be elected tomorrow morning and at the same time additional vice presidents will be chosen for each of the states interested in the movement. It is intended to make the campaign this year an extremely hot one, and it was deemed advisable to have more vice presidents to help handle the large amount of work which this will involve. The resolutions committee presented resolutions favoring the immediate prosecution of work of improving the Ohio, and indorsing the work of Maj. W. L. Sibert of Pittsburgh, and denouncing the attack recently made upon him. The resolutions pledged him the assistance of the association and assured him of the earnest belief of the members in his ability and integrity.

In the discussion which followed the presentation of the resolutions, it was pointed out that the improvement of the entire Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo to a nine-foot stage would cost less than the bonded indebtedness of the street railway systems in Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

Figures Brought Forth Cheers.

The figures given in this manner brought forth hearty cheers. One speaker favored the immediate making of a government bond issue for several hundred millions of dollars for the improvement of all the rivers and harbors in the United States, and said the bonds would all be subscribed for in the Ohio valley. His remarks brought forth enthusiastic applause.

The convention will probably finish its labors tomorrow and the delegates will leave here in the afternoon for their homes. Tomorrow a number of them will go to Ashland, Ky., 16 miles south, for a trolley ride. There is a lot of routine work yet to be finished, but the delegates are hustling through with it and expect to finish up by noon. It has been all work, so far, with the exception of the banquet last night. They came here to work for a better river and no time has been spent in sightseeing.

U. S. MARINES PREVENT REVOLUTION IN PANAMA

Plot of Army Foiled—War Minister Will Resign and People Are Excited.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PANAMA, Nov. 17.—The treaty between the United States and Panama has prevented one more revolution on the isthmus. The rumored coup d' etat by the military, it seems, was more serious than at first thought. Minister Barrett, after a consultation with the Panaman government and Gen. Davis, commander of the canal zone, decided to ask Admiral Goodrich to leave one of the warships of the United States Pacific squadron here to prevent any possible disturbance.

This morning 200 marines from Empire camp arrived here. Gen. Huertas, the minister of war, has announced his intention to resign which will clear the political atmosphere. Though disturbances are not feared, Panama is greatly excited.

CHICAGO TEAMSTERS' STRIKE IS ATTENDED BY RIOTING

Twenty-Three Furniture Drivers Quit Work, Which Results in Fighting in the Streets.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Today 23 furniture teamsters went out on strike, 120 more have been called out for tomorrow and other teamsters may be called out for a sympathetic strike. The strike opened today with rioting and fighting in the streets and more trouble is predicted for tomorrow, as the furniture dealers say that they will continue to make deliveries with non-union drivers.

The point at issue with the furniture drivers is the refusal of the employers to sign contracts with them. There is no question of wages involved.

"GOD IS WITH US," SAYS STOESSEL

Port Arthur's Wounded Commander Sends Cheerful Message to the Czar.

ALL WELL IN THE CITADEL

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 18.—Rejoicing over the undaunted spirit displayed by Gen. Stoessel in his telegram of congratulation to Emperor Nicholas on the anniversary of his accession to the throne, and officially announcing the failure of Gen. Nogi's nine-day attempt to present Port Arthur to the mikado as a birthday gift, is tempered by private information that the gallant commander of the garrison has been wounded.

Gen. Stoessel was struck in the head by a splinter from a shell while he was personally directing the repulse of a particularly desperate assault, but fortunately the wound is not serious, and the general has not been obliged to relinquish command.

Other information sent by Gen. Stoessel, which has not been divulged for strategic reasons, it is stated by the war office, is by no means unfavorable. While the garrison is now hemmed in in the citadel itself, not one of the main forts has been taken. The garrison has been provisioned, fresh ammunition has arrived, and Gen. Stoessel has confidence the defense can be successfully maintained until the arrival of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's second Pacific squadron.

The report that the armored cruiser Gromoboi has been injured at Vladivostok is confirmed.

"God With Us," Says Stoessel.

Under date of November 2 Gen. Stoessel telegraphed:

"We greet the emperor. This day, a solemn one for all our country, we offer prayers to God and send to our emperor felicitations in the shape of reverberating hurrahs. On bended knees we pray to God to give health to your majesty and their majesties, the empresses and the Grand Duke Czarevitch.

"Our joy is all the greater because all the assaults, which lasted nine days, have been repulsed up to this great day, the anniversary of your accession to the throne, the same day that our Japanese enemies celebrate the anniversary of the birth of their mikado, and whereon they had sworn to take the fortress. God is with us."

CHEFOO, Nov. 17—Fighting at Port Arthur has taken place nightly since the Japanese began their general assault October 26, according to Capt. Romberg, a pilot, who was a passenger on the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny.

The Japanese trenches, the captain says, are closest to the forts on Rihlung and Keekwan mountains. The sharpshooters of both sides, occupying the pits, converse with each other and frequently make individual truces in order to borrow cigarettes, or to relieve their cramped limbs.

All the railroad steamers belonging to the Russians, except the steel screw transport Amur, have been sunk by Japanese shells. The hospital ship Angara, formerly a transport, has been sunk in shallow water. The patients are still on board the ship and are comfortable.

Hanged the Chinaman.

Recently a silk-clad Chinaman, who was seen traveling in a sampan, was watched by the Russians, who observed that, following the discharge of each shell, he placed a handkerchief to his nose and then into his left pocket, occasionally varying these movements, apparently thus signalling the landing place of the shells. The shells fell behind obstructions, which fact prevented the Japanese obtaining a direct view of their effect. The Chinaman was hanged.

One day last week a hospital ship moved too near the battleships in the harbor, whereupon the Japanese dropped small shells around her with the obvious purpose of warning her away. The ship took the hint, and when she was outside the zone of danger, large shells began falling near the battleships.

STOESSEL'S REPORT IS DARK WITH DISASTER

Real Situation, Divulged by His Message, Has Not Been Given to Public, It Is Said.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

CHEFOO, Nov. 17.—There are reasons to believe that the position of Port Arthur is fully as bad as the reports which have reached here from time to time have indicated.

Despite the efforts of the officers of the Rastoropny to give the impression that the garrison is cheerful, and prepared to stand out for an indefinite time, talks with members of the Russian destroyer's crew, which the vigilance of the officers has not been sufficient to prevent entirely, warrants the belief that affairs really have reached a desperate turn with the garrison.

The soldiers say frankly Port Arthur is not only suffering from lack of ammunition, but also from a serious shortage of food, warm clothing and supplies of all kinds. In all ranks of the service, they say, a feeling is constantly growing that they have done all that is possible, and that the time has come to give up. This feeling, it is said, is shared by many of the higher officers. Two-thirds or more of the original garrison has died, either as the result of the Japanese fire or from disease, while many of those alive are suffering from wounds or disease. Because of a lack of medical supplies, doctors and nurses, the sick and wounded have received no adequate attention, and their sufferings have been fearful.

It was this condition which led Gen. Stoessel to sacrifice one of the finest of the small craft still left to him, in order to let the home government know how matters stand with him.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 17.—A report is current in high diplomatic circles that the reports given out as coming from Gen. Stoessel are for home consumption purely, while as a matter of fact the true conditions, as set forth by the Russian commander at Port Arthur, could not be worse.

It is hinted these private reports show that not only has the garrison been fearfully pushed, and that the supply of ammunition is practically exhausted, but internal dissentions exist in the garrison, and only the inflexible will of Stoessel and Fock prevent the mutiny of those who desire to put an end to the slaughter and suffering.

It is said these reports have almost prostrated the czar, and that his majesty is restrained with difficulty from sending positive orders to Stoessel to surrender the fortress at once.

NEW YORK HOTELS TAXED TO FULLEST CAPACITY

Great Multitude Drawn to the Metropolis by the Horse Show Has Filled All the Fashionable Hostelries.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—That a record-breaking multitude has been drawn to New York by this year's horse show was proved by a canvass of the leading hotels today. All the fashionable Fifth avenue and other hostelries have for the last two or three days been filled to overflowing and hundreds of persons have been sent to other houses because there was no room for them at these big hotels.

It is at the Waldorf-Astoria, of course, that there is the greatest throng, and many times during the day the line at the reception desk stood 12 deep. Hundreds have been turned away during the week. Thomas M. Hilliard, the manager, said that the crowd of strangers in New York was much larger than last year.

"We had 1,540 patrons in the hotel last night," said Mr. Hilliard, "twenty more than we had on the corresponding night last year, although we thought then that the hotel was quite filled up. We have 2,500 persons dining each night in the public dining-room, the red room having had to be pressed into service."

In addition to this number tonight there was a Young Men's Christian association banquet of 500 persons in one of the rooms of the first floor and there were a number of smaller dinner parties.

Many more patrons arrived at the St. Regis, and Mr. Hahn, the proprietor of the hotel, is happy over the outlook. Among those who were dining at the St. Regis Wednesday evening was Mrs. Roosevelt. The Holland House has been filled all the week, and has had all its resources taxed in the effort to take care of its regular patrons. Both Sherry's and Delmonico's have been crowded for dinner and supper during the week.

AUSTRIA IN NEED OF CUSTOMS TARIFF

Premier Von Koerber Tells Parliament Nation Should Have Protection Duties.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

VIENNA, Nov. 17.—The Austrian parliament resumed its sittings today.

Premier Von Koerber, in talking on the budget, emphasized the urgency of the country devoting itself to commercial and political economic development, emulating Germany and other nations. Even Russia, with a great war on her hands, he said, is busily inspiring her economic future by the conclusion of commercial treaties. The monarchy must adopt a customs tariff in order to protect home production and take measures to build up a new economic Austria on modern lines.

The premier asked the house to support the government bill for the establishment of an Italian law faculty at Rovereto in order to permit the closing of the provisional law faculty at Innsbruck so soon as possible. The Germans thereupon shouted: "The Tyrolean veterans will take care of that."

The premier announced that the government accepted all responsibility for the Innsbruck affair and said the guilty parties would be punished. There was much disturbance between the factions while the question was up. It is considered improbable that the Rovereto bill will in any degree settle the Italian university question, the Italians having absolutely declined to accept the government's offer to establish a faculty at Rovereto.

FIRED ON PITTSBURGH MINERS FROM AMBUSH

Austrian Member of Party Being Taken to Ziegler Is Instantly Killed—Others Wounded.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CARBONDALE, ILL., Nov. 17.—An Austrian miner was instantly killed late yesterday, and two others were wounded in an attack made on an Illinois Central train conveying a contingent of miners from Pittsburgh to Zeigler.

The train was accompanied from Odin by two United States marshals. As it was passing through a piece of woods an attack was made on it from ambush. Over 40 shots were fired. The attack was continued as long as the train was passing through the woods.

Detectives and United States marshals were at once put on the trail of the attacking party.

Conditions at Zeigler have recently been growing worse, the strikers taking on new hope and determination, caused in part by successfully inducing Leiter's men to quit after working a few days in the colliery. Other contingents are known to be en route.

WILL ADOPT A YOUNG IGORROTE HEAD HUNTER

Children from the Philippines Are Wanted by a St. Louis Doctor and a Baltimore Woman.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—By permission of the war department, Antaero, a 14-year-old head hunter of the Igorrote village at the world's fair may become a member of the family of Dr. Will C. Campbell of this city. Likewise, Tabae, a Moro girl, 10 years old, is likely to enter the home of Mrs. Charles Wentz of Baltimore.

Antaero, the little Igorrote whom Dr. Campbell wants to adopt, is a full-blooded head hunter. He came to St. Louis wearing the famous costume of his race and he clung to the style as long as the weather and the government would permit.

Mrs. Wentz of Baltimore, who wants the little Moro girl, Tabae, is the woman whose persistence finally compelled the war department to make a ruling. She has written several times about the girl. She and Dr. Campbell have both been notified that it remains for them to present satisfactory credentials to the government.

ONLY TERRAPIN AND CANVAS BACK

Weary Ploughers in Field of Finance Enjoy Their Humble Repast.

ALL REDOLENT OF THE SOIL

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 17.

Twenty millionaires assembled at the Bellevue-Stratford tonight for their annual country dinner. These ploughers in the field of finance dined on terrapin, canvas back, mushrooms and other products of the soil in which they labor.

A big cider press stood in one corner of the room. Whenever one of the diners felt so inclined, he would go to the machine, place a basket of apples under the press and, with a few turns of a giant screw, supply himself with real, home-made cider. For the oysters the guests were supplied with miniature pitchforks, while they dissected their salad with toy rakes, and the terrapin was conveyed to their mouths with small hoes.

A rooster strutted around the room, and picked up the crumbs. The table was circular, its concave middle being filled with pumpkins, melons, corn, grapes, cabbages and vegetables of every description. Many of these had been hollowed out and electric lights inserted.

To reach the room it was necessary to find a way through a cornfield. A rail fence separated the guests from a pig, a calf and three fierce-looking stuffed rams. Farming utensils were scattered about.

Among the "farmers" of the dinner were: E. P. Wilbur, former president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, who acted as host; A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad; George F. Baer, president of the Reading railroad; E. T. Stotesbury, president of the Union league; W. H. McAlpin of Pittsburgh; Effingham B. Morris, banker and railroad director; Charles Curtis Harrison, provost of the University of Pennsylvania; Samuel Rea, second vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and John Fritz and Joseph Wharton, whose genius created the Bethlehem steel plant.

NOT CASE OF BIGAMY BUT MISTAKEN IDENTITY

So Declares Young Philadelphia Husband Who is Torn Away from His Bride of a Year.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—Married only a year Arthur L. Ortman, a young man, was before the city hall police court today on a charge of bigamy. A pretty woman about 22 years old sat in the space reserved for women, with an infant in her arms. The police allege she is Ortman's second living wife, and that he married her while the husband of another woman in New York city.

While admitting he is Arthur L. Ortman, the husband asserted he was not the Arthur L. Ortman named in the warrant. Magistrate Kochersperger held the young man without bail to await the arrival of requisition papers. He ruled that the New York authorities could determine if an error in identity had been made.

When an officer visited the house last night he found Ortman romping on the floor with his baby. When told he was under arrest Mrs. Ortman threw her arms about her husband's neck and sobbed that he was innocent, and that she would stand by him to the end.

MAN MARVELOUSLY SAVED FROM SMOTHERING TO DEATH

Buried in Ditch by Cavein, but His Head Rests in Small Cavity Providing Air.

BEAVER FALLS, Nov. 17.—Buried under five feet of clay by a cave-in John Cherry of Beaver Falls escaped death by asphyxiation today and although seriously injured may recover. Cherry was helping to dig a ditch for sewer pipes in Tenth street this afternoon, when a slide buried him to his waist. Superintendent D. R. Porter and John Williamson sprang into the ditch to help Cherry out, but their jump caused another slide which tore the cribbing out and buried Cherry.

Williamson and Porter were pulled out and the workmen started to dig for Cherry. It was 20 minutes before he was uncovered, and then they discovered that the cribbing from the two sides of the ditch had fallen together and left a small cavity in which Cherry's head lay, providing him with air. His left leg was broken in two places, several ribs were crushed and he was injured internally. He was taken to the Beaver Valley hospital and may recover. Williamson and Porter were not seriously injured.

Among the guests were Paul Morton, secretary of the navy; Brig.-Gen. F. D. Grant, United States army, and Rear Admiral A. S. Barker, United States navy.

Secretary Morton said: "I came here for the purpose of indorsing the naval homes of the Y. M. C. A. and the splendid work done by this association for the betterment and happiness of the enlisted men in the navy. Everybody in the navy, from department heads down to the men themselves, are grateful for the results that have been obtained.

NAN PATTERSON FINDS WITNESS

Man Discovered Who Says He Saw "Caesar" Young Kill Himself.

SENSATION IN COURT ROOM

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A new witness who says he saw "Caesar" Young shoot and kill himself, came to light this afternoon in the questioning of a talesman for the jury to try Nan Patterson, who is charged with the murder of Young.

When Archibald G. C. Anderson of 311 West Twenty-third street was called as a talesman, seven jurors had been accepted from the previous 58 talesmen. He whispered to Justice Vernon Davis that he did not believe he could be an acceptable juryman, as he believed the story of a friend who had said he had seen "Caesar" Young kill himself.

Justice Davis called Abraham Levy, chief counsel for Miss Patterson, and the assistant district attorney to the bench and in a conversation which the accepted jurors could not hear, Mr. Anderson told his story. Mr. Anderson gave the name of the new witness to Miss Patterson's counsel, who at once sent out for the witness. Mr. Anderson was promptly excused as a possible juror.

Three More Jurors Secured.

Three additional jurors were the net result of the proceedings today. The jury now stands: Ellwood Hendrick, foreman, of Pomeroy Bros., brokers; Harry L. Johnson, dry goods merchant; Harvey J. Ubert, liquor dealer; Robert Henry, formerly superintendent for a department store; Harry S. Lines, real estate broker; John H. Poggenburg, lithographer; Jacob J. Green, manufacturer.

There were several somewhat sensational scenes in the court room today. One was when John Millin, former partner of "Caesar" Young, came into court. Millin, square jawed and with a determined eye, walked boldly down the aisle. Straight ahead of him was the woman whom he accused of murdering his friend and partner. When within less than 10 feet of her he was recognized by a court officer, and quickly turned aside.

The word quickly spread that Millin was in the court room and those who recalled his enmity for the actress forgot the efforts being made to complete the jury and watched the horseman, the fire of anger still burning in his eye.

Officers Watched Millin.

Not for half an hour did Millin take his eyes off the "Florodora" girl. And he was watched just as closely by a number of officers. Had he made the least suspicious motion a dozen hands would have caught him and perhaps laid him low.

Only once did the eyes of the accused woman meet the gaze of Millin. It was just as he was motioned to a seat and she saw him for but the fraction of a moment. She wavered, turned ghastly pale and her hand trembled out toward her father as if she felt he were not there and all help had fled from her. But he was there and the devoted father who has stood with her through every moment of her trouble, saw her fears, put his arm about her, whispered a few words in her ear and then changed her chair so that she could no longer see the man. Then the court officials removed Millin to the rear of the room. During the lunch hour the young woman broke down as a result of her meeting with Millin, but had partially recovered when court reconvened.

Through the vigilance of Miss Patterson a talesman, whom she believed she had seen talking to John Millin, was rejected as a juror. In this sensational scene Millin was called to the rail where the actress, almost prostrated in the morning by his appearance, faced him boldly while her counsel asked the talesman if he had not been speaking with Millin. Miss Patterson, her attorney said, had seen Millin and the talesman in conversation. He denied this, but was nevertheless excused.

After adjournment Miss Patterson expressed herself as thoroughly satisfied with the jurymen so far selected.

ATTORNEYS FLING SHARP REPARTEE

John Marron and Rody P. Marshall Indulge in Acidulous Controversy at Scott Hearing.

CASE TO BE CONTINUED TODAY

Some spirit was injected into the Allegheny graft investigation yesterday at Alderman Toole's office, where a hearing was held in the case of Alice Scott of 20 East Lacock street, who is charged by County Detective Robinson with keeping a disorderly house and with selling liquor without a license.

In hearings held in other cases in the same office the suave manner of Thomas M. Marshall, attorney for the defendants in every case, was not conducive to controversy, and things have gone smoothly. Rody P. Marshall appeared yesterday for Alice Scott, and at the opening of the hearing made vigorous objections to questions asked by Mr. Marron. At one time he got so angry that he left the office. When he returned the arguments continued and became so involved that finally Alderman Toole had to admit he was confused and could not remember what question was at issue.

The hearing will be continued today at 4 o'clock. The postponement was caused by the absence of Capt. James Wilson, who was wanted as a witness by the prosecuting attorneys.

T. M. Marshall's Objection.

Thomas M. Marshall promised to have Wilson at the hearing today, although when the hearing was about over, Mr. Marshall declared he, as an attorney, would advise Wilson not to attend, "as this is not a hearing, but a probing expedition."

Mr. Marron promised not to ask Capt. Wilson any embarrassing questions, and it was then promised that Wilson would be present today.

Policeman Thomas Carroll, who patrols a beat in the Fourth ward, said he had known Alice Scott for about three years. He heard no disturbance at the Scott woman's house about 1 or 2 o'clock Sunday morning last.

"Did you see a girl named Nellie last Saturday night?" asked Mr. Marron.

"Yes, I saw her on Sandusky street about 2 o'clock."

"Was she at that time wearing nothing more than a skirt, and did she not tell you that she had told Alice Scott what she thought of her?"

"She was all dressed when I saw her. She told me she had some trouble, but did not say where it was. I told her to go home," answered Carroll.

"Is it true that when this trouble started you ran away and stayed in hiding for an hour and a half?" asked Mr. Marron.

"That is not true," was the reply, "and I won't tell you where I was when that trouble was going on," replied Carroll.

Further than this Carroll declared he had never seen a Tschume beer wagon in his life, and never saw beer in the "Flats," the building in which Alice Scott has her rooms.

R. P. Marshall Left the Court.

It was during the examination of Carroll that Rody Marshall got angry and went out.

When Mr. Marron asked Lieut. Ferdinand Fleck if he ever reported any disturbance at Miss Scott's place, Rody Marshall objected.

"We want a judicial hearing, and this is a farce," declared Mr. Marshall.

"I think you will find I am empowered by law to ask such questions," replied Mr. Marron.

"Well, I suppose the laws you are using in this case are the kind you dig up from the times when people were ducked for wrongdoing," said Mr. Marshall.

"Lord knows, there are some people in Allegheny who need to be ducked," responded Mr. Marron.

"I think this whole affair is disgraceful," said Thomas M. Marshall, and the wrangling stopped when Alderman Toole dismissed the witness.

Policemen George Shaw and Nick Delehanty were questioned, but as neither ever walked a beat in the Fourth ward their testimony was valueless.

District Attorney Stewart, in speaking of the crusade against certain aldermen of Pittsburgh, said yesterday that there would be no unnecessary delay in the proceedings. The city administration, he says, will not in any way figure in the graft cases, and the investigation in Pittsburgh will be kept entirely separate from the Allegheny investigations.

LAURA BIGGAR HERE.

Actress Is Residing in Pittsburgh as Mrs. Henry M. Bennett.

Laura Biggar, the actress who gained much public notice in the settlement of the estate of the late Henry M. Bennett, has taken up her residence in Pittsburgh. She came to the Colonial hotel a week ago after spending the early autumn months in the mountains of Vermont. While it is believed that her sojourn here is to obtain a further share in the Bennett fortune, she refuses to talk of her personal affairs, saying that her attorney had exacted a promise not to speak of the purpose of her visit.

She is living as Mrs. Henry M. Bennett. Theatergoing is her sole recreation and there is scarcely a day that she is not to be seen in a box at some local playhouse at a matinee performance. She says that the stage has a fascination for her and that she cannot resist going behind the scenes and meeting old friends.

ORCHESTRA TOURS BEGIN.

Paur's Players Will Invade the Home of Theodore Thomas.

Manager George H. Wilson of the Pittsburgh orchestra left for the west last night to arrange for the tour of Emil Paur's organization which will extend as far west as Milwaukee and will invade the territory of Theodore Thomas' famous orchestra at Chicago. The Pittsburgh players gave a successful concert at Youngstown on Tuesday night and will be heard in the large cities of northern Ohio and Michigan before proceeding to the metropolis of Illinois. They will return home on Wednesday.

The second tour will be made next month, beginning on December 5. Geneva, Ithaca, Syracuse and Cleveland will be visited. Subsequent tours will embrace northern Pennsylvania, Western New York and Canadian cities.

WILL TRY THE MAYOR.

He Will Have to Defend His Course in Discharging Old Soldiers.

The case against Mayor Hays for discharging old soldiers from the public service will be called for trial in criminal court on Tuesday.

The prosecutor is Samuel Moore, who was removed by Hays. This is the second trial, the first time the jury failed to agree.

Milk Dealers Must Be Licensed.

Beginning Monday milk dealers will have to take out licenses prepared by the department of public safety, in accordance with an act of the assembly. Director Moore has announced that the 350 dealers in the city must apply for licenses, and those who have not done so within a reasonable time will be prosecuted.

Blackburn No Longer President.

Thomas Blackburn is no longer president of the district council of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers. His successor will probably be elected at tonight's meeting. Blackburn took the stump during the recent presidential campaign on behalf of the Democratic ticket.

Woman Defied Workmen.

When a gang of men in the employ of Contractor Fred Gwinner dug a hole in the sidewalk in front of the property of Mrs. Mary Ferris in Ontario street, Allegheny, yesterday, to raise a pole there, Mrs. Ferris secured a chair and set herself in the hole. She refused to move and the work had to be abandoned.

Ingrowing Nails Instantly Relieved. DR. SIMPSON, 341 Fifth avenue.

ELECTION WILL BE HELD TODAY

Twenty-Second Ward Electors Will Vote for a Candidate for Common Councilman.

CITIZENS SUPPLY THE WHISKY

Twenty-second ward electors will today vote for a candidate for common councilman. The nominees are F. P. Booth, Republican, and Dr. J. O. Bockstoce, "Independent."

A vote for Bockstoce is a vote to uphold the hands of the present city administration. He is running in the interests of the Citizens party, but as an "Independent" candidate in the hope of escaping the odium which attaches to everything labeled "Citizens." His vouchers in the open are Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow. They are doing everything in their power to elect him because they need his vote in councils and are satisfied that they would get it. Reason is found for this assurance in the fact that J. Smiley Wightman and John F. Steel have been willing servitors of the machine. Wightman and Steel secretly vouch for Bockstoce.

That the machine needs Bockstoce's vote was demonstrated when Mayor Hays refused to save the city the expense of a special election by having the successor of Steel elected at the regular November election. By delaying the vote, the administration considered that its chances of success were enhanced. In the event of his election, Steel and Wightman will have to deliver the vote of Bockstoce every time it is needed. Had this understanding not been reached, Director Bigelow would not have allowed them to slate Bockstoce. He does not care how much bluff is made about the independence of the candidate before the election. Nothing so delights the director as to have fun with the reformer.

While there are no saloons in the Twenty-second ward, the friends of the "Independent" candidate will not go dry today. The Republicans were informed yesterday that a Citizens official had left an order with a wholesale liquor dealer to send $60 worth of whisky to the polling places in the Twenty-second ward today.

All of the payroll men who live in the ward were instructed yesterday to hustle today if they want to hold their jobs. They are expected to make a bread and butter appeal to the voters.

In common pleas court No. 1 yesterday the Democratic indorsement of Booth was declared void. The Democratic meeting at which the indorsement was given had not been held in accordance with the party rules.

Mr. Booth addressed a big open meeting last evening in the Fourth district. Previous to the gathering there was a parade by the Republican marching club.

Policeman John McGinty presided over a Bockstoce meeting held in the Four Mile Run school house. There were several other police officers in attendance. Magistrate Vitchestain was at the meeting.

"Andy" Fulton yesterday sent a number of personal letters into the ward urging support for Bockstoce.

THEY WANT A BIG HALL.

Old Soldiers Disagree With Director Bigelow's Ideas of What a Suitable Memorial Is.

Old soldiers do not want a marble shaft to commemorate their deeds and do not thank Director Bigelow for suggesting it. Their ideas run to a memorial hall, to house relics of the Civil war, to furnish meeting places for the Grand Army lodges and to supply an auditorium big enough to hold conventions in. After hearing what some veterans think, Mr. Bigelow said yesterday that a monument was one thing, a hall another. If a hall, such as described, was needed, the city was great enough to build it, but that a monument at Fifth avenue and Market street erected in honor of the old soldiers would be more honor to them than a building intended for utilitarian purposes. The chief argument used by the old soldiers is that there is no large hall in the downtown district suitable for large gatherings. Congressman-elect William H. Graham, who is one of them, said so yesterday.

That Mr. Bigelow is opposed to utility structures as monuments was demonstrated once before. When the project to erect a monument in honor of his work for city parks was afoot, Mr. Bigelow suggested a shaft surmounted by an allegorical figure representing the idea conveyed by "a park for the people." The commission entrusted with the project wanted a shelter pavilion in Schenley park, but finally acceded partly to the director's ideas, only, instead of a shaft surmounted by an allegorical figure, the commission erected, against the director's protests, a statue of the director himself.

ADDITIONAL CHARGES MADE AGAINST FRANK GARDNER

Additional charges were made against Frank Gardner, the alleged burglar, who was arrested in South Side last week. Mrs. D. A. Ross, 304 Jocunda street, identified a ring which was stolen from her house October 5 and was found in Gardner's possession; M. P. Garrigan, 126 Orchard street, Knoxville, identified a watch and a pair of cuff buttons, stolen from his house September 15; Dawson B. Adams of Wilkinsburg identified a pair of opera glasses taken from his house October 25, and Mrs. F. C. Ament 5736 Kelly street, identified several pieces of jewelry stolen from her house October 13. Each of these persons made a charge of larceny against Gardner.

WHAT WILL "CYRANO" SAY?

Thousands Interested In the Reply of the Music Critic of the "Index."

AWAITING TOMORROW'S ISSUE.

When we issued our answer to "Cyrano De Bergerac's" biting criticism of piano players (Pittsburgh Index, Nov. 12), in the daily papers last Wednesday, we had no idea of the great interest that would be aroused in the matter.

Since the appearance of our defense of the "Angelus" piano player hundreds have expressed the hope that "Cyrano De Bergerac" would at least acknowledge that he had been in error and his judgment passed without proper consideration.

We hope that our expectations and those of Angelus owners and our numerous friends will be realized. We think they will, as "Cyrano De Bergerac's" criticisms have not only been authoritative and interesting in the past, but they have been just.

As we proposed, we stand ready to prove to "Cyrano De Bergerac" that the claims we make for the Angelus as an instrument of the highest artistic possibilities can and will be demonstrated at any time he may appoint, or we will forfeit a new Hamil-Tone piano to any charity he may name.

We should be glad of the opportunity to show to others interest, even if they have no idea of purchasing, that the Angelus can be used by any music lover who has no musical education whatever. As for its value to musicians, the words of one of the leading musicians of the city, when giving his order for an Angelus yesterday, should be sufficient to quiet the carping of those who are prejudiced or uninformed. He said: "No artist could take the slightest exception to the beautiful playing of the Angelus. It is marvelous." We know that this gentleman would not hesitate to express himself with equal emphasis to any inquirer.

Will you come in and let us show you the "Phrasing Lever," that wonderful little device which places the owner of an Angelus on a par with Bauer, or Schelling or Paderewski, as far as instant control of the piano keys is concerned. This invitation is extended to every music lover, to every owner of an unused piano. And booklets are free for the asking.

EGYPTIAN WATER GIRL CARRIED INTO THE COURT

An "Egyptian Water Girl," a handsome and nearly life-size piece of bronze statuary valued at $1,000, stands silently in common pleas court room No. 2, awaiting the trial of the suit of Frank Bowles against H. Adler. Bowles, who conducts an antique store in Penn avenue, wants to collect from Adler the price of the girl. Adler refuses to pay, alleging the statuary is damaged.

Girl's Quickness Saved Lincoln.

W. G. Lincoln, a telegraph operator in a brokerage office at 5 South Diamond street, Allegheny, was saved from serious injury by the quickness of Ella Meyers, a waitress, yesterday afternoon. Lincoln attempted to pull down the upper sash of a window on the second floor of the building and fell out, alighting on a number of telegraph wires stretched below the window. Miss Meyers saw him fall and quickly closed an open cellar door directly under Lincoln. Lincoln fell to the sidewalk a moment later. He was taken to his home in East Diamond street.

News from the Book Nook.

Today we mention two novels, just published—"The Prodigal Son," by Hall Caine, and the "Sea Wolf," by Jack London, which promise to be two of the most widely read books of the year in the line of fiction. Publisher's price in each case $1.50, our price $1.08.

The Prodigal Son.

The first editions of this book will be 225,000 copies. It appeared simultaneously in nine different languages—English, German, French, Italian, Russian, Flanish, Dutch, Swedish and Danish, the number of copies in English alone, 152,000. This is absolutely unprecedented in the history of fiction and speaks forcefully of the popularity of the author of "The Christian," "The Eternal City," etc. Mr. Caine's new work will be as startling to many readers as it is true to eternal verities.

The Sea-Wolf.

As in "The Call of the Wild," Mr. London caught the chill of the far north until one listened for the crunch of the frozen snow, so in the Sea-Wolf he makes one feel the sting of the salt water. It is easy to see that he has dared the dangers he describes, tasted the seal-hunting adventures he depicts, and it may be known some such mixture of brutality and self-culture as Wolf Larson. The tone of the book is fresh, buoyant, indefinite—full of the magic of the sea. It has that rarest of all things, something absolutely new. It has all the adventurous glamour of a Stevenson, and must be hailed with delight.

The Block Arc Lights Are Cheaper Than Electricity.

The Block Arc Lights are designed for use in factories, mills, churches, stores, etc. They are 2,000 candle power. In brilliancy they rival the sun and throw a steady, even light without flickering or shadows. They can be used with natural or artificial gas.

A 2,000 candle power Block Arc Lamp has but one mantle and consumes but one-half a cent's worth of gas per hour. Everyone who has used electricity knows that an electric arc costs five times as much for electricity, yet the light is not equal to the Block Arc Light.

The Block Home Lights are 300 candle power; one such lamp gives more light than ten incandescent lights. Costs less than a half cent an hour. No mantle wires to burn off. Is it any wonder then they are called the marvel of the age?

We are the only agents in Pittsburg for this famous light.

Demonstration of Aluminum Ware.

The demonstrator will explain the merits of Aluminum Ware. First, she knows; second, she's honest—ignorant honesty would be as bad as faking.

We know and she knows that aluminum ware is the best kitchen ware yet made. It wears longest. It is not money in our pocket to tell you this, because if you buy some other ware the chances are you buy oftener.

Aluminum Teakettles won't burst—the demonstrator will prove it to you. She will boil milk an hour without stirring or burning. She'll cook rice without stirring or sticking—and it won't burn. Come and see.

At the Embroidery Counter

Today buy Nainsook, Swiss and Cambric embroideries, widths from 1 inch to 10 inches, at 5c to 45c a yard for qualities that sell regularly for 10c to 90c a yard.

Friday, November 18, 1904.

During the week there has been an active and advancing market for steel products, buyers apparently anticipating higher prices in the near future. This is but the legitimate sequence of the signs pointed out by The Gazette many weeks ago, indicating the restoration of confidence and revival of prosperity. The buyer who was early with his order has the best of the situation, though he may have appeared to be taking long chances. Nothing is ever lost by the man who has the nerve to plan new work when business is depressed and who begins it when the clouds are thickest.

Comment is made on the expenses of Governor-Elect Higgins of New York during the campaign, but he only spent a little over $20,000, while Mr. Douglas, the Democrat, who was successful in Massachusetts, admits that his campaign expenses amounted to $34,800. It has been easy to evade the law requiring a public statement of election expenses in Massachusetts, but Mr. Douglas is evidently honest. While the amount is large, the money could easily have been spent for proper methods of campaigning, for Mr. Douglas filled the Bay State newspapers with advertising matter advocating his candidacy.

Those interested in the anti-gambling crusade in New York city are jubilant over the decision of the highest court in that state, which has declared the Dowling bill constitutional, so that Jesse Lewisohn must tell what he knows about gambling in Canfield's place. It is even predicted that this means the death blow to fashionable gambling resorts, for the district attorney has declared his determination to close them and he has now been provided with the legal measures for doing this. In the meantime Lewisohn can no longer maintain the position he took that he could not testify to his presence in the gambling resort without incriminating himself, for he knows it to be useless to carry the case to the United States supreme court since that tribunal has sustained a similar measure.

Within a week after the announcement of the election result Candidate Parker set up a law office in New York city next his friend Sheehan. It is said that he intends to make the metropolis his home, for Mrs. Parker also left Esopus and is reported to be house-hunting in the metropolis. In the meantime the Democratic Moses, who did not come within several miles of the "promised land," is not likely to suffer from lack of business, as he has already been given some profitable commissionerships. New York is a rich field for politicians who use the advertising they received for getting clients, and Mr. Parker's reputation made on the bench should also be of assistance to him. It is perhaps too early to predict whether the judge will ever enter politics actively again after making such a fiasco in the national field.

Among the many pupils of the German chemist, Bunsen, to achieve success was the late Dr. Thomas M. Drown, president of Lehigh university, who died Wednesday from the result of an operation. Dr. Drown was a Pennsylvanian by birth, but some of his best work was done while a teacher in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for which he served as chemist for the Massachusetts board of health and made an exhaustive study of the enormous water system built in that commonwealth. It was under his jurisdiction that the system of filtration was established at Lawrence, Mass. For nearly 10 years he had been president of Lehigh and he did much to maintain the excellence of that institution, especially as a training school for engineers, for he held that careful preparation was necessary in such an important profession which takes a conspicuous part in modern life.

The report that another operation upon Emperor William will be necessary and that his physicians have advised him to abstain from all exertion, mental and physical, will renew the gloomy apprehensions felt some time ago in regard to his condition. The tendency of his case to parallel the malady of which his father died is too marked to be ignored. Solicitude as regards his welfare will be attended by anxiety all over the civilized world, for his departure from the scene of affairs would remove one of the world's great political forces and so great a change in the international situation would have world-wide consequences. However inviting to criticism Emperor William's acts may be, he is certainly a man of genius, and his ability must be admitted even by his opponents. The fortunes of the German empire need strong guidance, and it is a great misfortune that when the European situation is being profoundly affected by the collapse of Russian prestige that failing health should affect the emperor's powers.

While there is no doubt that Sir Thomas Lipton placed great faith in Designer Watson, it is not likely that the sudden death of the man who modelled the Shamrocks has anything to do with the announcement that there will be no international racing for the cup next year. Since the first Shamrock was brought over by Mr. Lipton in 1899 there has been the lapse of a year between each series of races off New York. The last defeat of the British boat in 1903 was so decisive that it may take some time to arouse fresh interest in the international sport. Next year it is expected that there will be local trials of speed on both sides of the water. It is likely that Mr. Lipton will give an order to build another boat to the young naval architect who was associated with Mr. Watson, and if this should prove speedier than Shamrock III. it might be entered as a cup challenger in 1906.

Vote Against Jobbery.

Desperate efforts are being made in the Twenty-second ward contest to confuse the issues. The administration is making a pretense that it is not interested in the candidacy of Dr. Bockstoce and has ordered out the pay roll to spread that report, together with a misrepresentation concerning the candidacy of Franklin P. Booth. A majority of voters in the ward, however, understand the situation. They voted for J. Smiley Wightman and John F. Steel as "independents," only to find that they were ready to "go along" on administration measures.

The record of the Citizens party administration has been such as to disgust every good citizen. It has broken every pledge on which it was put into power. It has aided the syndicates to plunder the public of valuable franchises. While promising to oppose any grant without due compensation it has lent its influence to have voluntary proffers of compensation removed from franchise ordinances. The Republican party, always the party of genuine reform and progress in the nation, has come into its own in the city and returned to honest party principles. It has opposed all the recent shameless deals to give away the public property and is the only party oranization to which citizens can look for redemption of campaign pledges.

A vote for Mr. Booth, the Republican candidate in the Twenty-second ward today will be a vote for the interest of the people. A vote for Dr. Bockstoce will be construed as an indorsement of the city administration and the franchise jobs. The issue is as plain as a pikestaff and every Republican in the Twenty-second ward should do his duty today, to himself and his party.

Steel Cross Ties Again.

Pittsburgh is naturally interested in any introduction of steel to new uses in this country. It will be especially interested in so large a possible use of its staple commodity as would be involved in the equipment of American railroads with steel cross ties. There have been a good many attempts in this direction in the past, but none have proved wholly satisfactory. More progress has been made in Europe, where timber is harder to obtain and higher in price, but even there the steel cross tie is not as highly esteemed as that made of wood.

Recently, however, the Lake Shore railroad has given an order for 8,000 steel cross ties of an improved pattern to be laid between Buffalo and Cleveland. That is one of the busiest divisions of the Lake Shore system and if the ties prove satisfactory there they are likely to be adopted extensively. The Lake Shore officials must be pretty certain they have a good thing or they would not start with as large an order as 8,000. One-fourth of that number would lay a mile of track.

It is evident to all railroad managers that some substitute must be found for the wooden cross tie, or that the railroads will be compelled to go into forestry on a large scale. Already tie timber is becoming scarce and costly. The Pennsylvania railroad has arranged for extensive plantings of locust along its rights-of-way, but at the best will need more lands for its own supply. The national department of agriculture has made a series of experiments and investigations tending to prove that certain species of the eucalyptus of rapid growth produces a wood that is most enduring under conditions to which the railroad cross tie is subjected. The use of steel ties, however, is more attractive if they can be made to serve the purpose and Pittsburgh has a larger interest in steel and concrete than in timber.

School Control in Cities.

There is a vigorous agitation in Philadelphia for the abolition of the local school boards, having for its purpose the concentration of authority in the central board of education. This has started a second movement for the abolition of the central board and the creation of a department of education on the same plane as the departments of public safety and of public works. Between the two there is a liberal ventilation of the whole system and exposure of its evils.

Pittsburgh has had pretty much the same experience as Philadelphia in school affairs. It is apparent that the system of central and sectional boards is not wholly satisfactory. Ward school boards are rarely as efficient, in the estimation of their constituents, as are township or even borough boards. This is probably due to the fact that they are not as closely in touch with the views of those whom they serve and are less careful of public sentiment. The original conception of local boards of school control was a logical and good one. It was based on the assumption that every school district would select for the duty the men in it best qualified to judge of educational needs and most able to meet them. How far that standard has been departed from in cities the reader may judge for himself from his personal observation.

The central board of school control grew out of the necessity for a general organization and the impracticability of having all of the local boards to meet in common. It is far from a perfect conception and in practice is frequently extremely unsatisfactory. it is apt to be out of sympathy with the superintendent of schools, the local boards and the people. It is worth while to consider and discuss this matter with a view to improvement.

The Memorial Hall.

Director Bigelow's choice of a site for a monument has regard only for present conditions and does not sufficiently consider the probability that before many years downtown Pittsburgh will be a region of sky-scrapers whose magnitude would dwarf by contrast any sort of a monument. The belittling effect produced upon the county court house by the Frick building is a familiar case in point. This effect will be intensified should additional stories be placed upon the court house, thus detracting from the elevation of the great central tower. It was a very short-sighted policy in the county administration that the ground around the court house was not secured at the time of the erection of the building, so as to make it the center of a park whose expanse would show off to advantage the noble proportions of the building. If the plan of a monument should be adopted the right place for it would be Schenley park or the hillslope north of the entrance to the park.

It appears to have been forgotten that the monument idea is not new but was the original shape assumed by the project. The memorial hall project was a later suggestion, and we think the change was a wise one. The action of The Gazette in drawing attention to this subject has had the effect of starting an instructive discussion, and we publish today two valuable communications which present with great force the arguments in favor of a memorial hall. The communication from Mr. Smith is particularly interesting in the details it gives showing the actual need of such a hall as an assembly room and a hall of records for the Grand Army posts and other patriotic associations.

The stronger the force of the reasons in favor of the erection of such a memorial hall, the more conclusive becomes the demonstration of the fact that it is a matter quite out of the ordinary routine of county business, and that in order to ensure proper management of the enterprise special arrangements must be made. The administrative machinery which is sufficient to award contracts for county roads and bridges is not exactly fitted to cope with the erection of a memorial hall which shall be worthy of the cause which it will symbolize. But it has seemed to be the intention to handle the matter in just that way. Judicial approval has heretofore been withdrawn after it had been given because no satisfactory assurances could be obtained that the direction would be such as to insure a creditable result. Such assurances are yet to be forthcoming and that is a point to which the disinterested advocates of the enterprise might profitably direct their efforts.

Prohibitionists and the Ballot.

In the late election the Prohibitionists made their best showing in this state in Venango county. They gave their national candidate more than 2,000 votes, exceeding the vote polled for Parker and Davis electors. For the office of sheriff the Prohibitionist candidate was indorsed by the Democrats and his vote was more than 3,700, or almost equal to the combined vote for Swallow and Parker. The Republican electoral ticket received considerably more than 5,000 votes and the candidate of that party for sheriff won by about 1,000 plurality over the fusion candidate.

A notable fact in this connection is that the Venango county voters appear to have been less confused by the new ballot than those of many other counties. The Prohibitionists appear to have made good on every one of their ballots and the Democrats to have lost but few through marking the top of the electoral column for a straight ticket. Under these circumstances, if the Republicans had not also voted more carefully than in Allegheny county, for example, their candidate for sheriff might have been beaten.

The exceptionally good marking of the Prohibitionists is probably due to the fact that they have done much voting for candidates on nomination papers and of mixed tickets at elections where their party had not a full ticket in the field. Moreover, the average Prohibitionist takes the privilege of voting seriously, informs himself carefully, and is careless enough of popular opinion to take his time in the voting booth. But by the time of the next election the less careful voters of other parties will be equally familiar with the form of the ballot—if only it is left unchanged—and will register their choice with equal accuracy.

A man who is to roll a peanut with his nose in payment of an election bet was prevented by the police from performing. Now application has been made in his behalf for an order permitting a parade. If the police power governs the case an order to eat the peanut would be more satisfactory.

Election of a city administration candidate at this time would signify a condition on the part of the people of buncoed and glad of it. Bockstoce is an administration candidate.

Robert Pitcairn's lead of 500 in the enormous Pennsylvania majority for the Republican electors is indicative of the esteem in which the Pittsburgh railroad manager is held.

With the Port Arthur garrison down to half rations and civilians to quarter rations it was almost criminal to permit the Rastoropny to carry away and destroy fresh meat.

Average American deposits in savings institutions are $419 as against $101 for other countries. This fact may help to explain last week's vote of confidence.

Director Bigelow possibly desires to have the war trophies stored in a zinc lined chamber in his proposed monument.

Kuropatkin has quit issuing proclamations, from which it may be inferred he is guarding his lines of communication.

Secretary Taft has started for Panama and there is reason to believe no spanking of the infant will follow.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Record-breaking sales characterized the opening day of the box offices of the disposal of seats for the first week of grand opera at the Metropolitan opera house. As early as 6:30 o'clock this morning men and women interspersed with children and messenger boys began to gather in the lobby of the opera house. Additions by those thirsty to taste of Mr. Conreid's productions were rapid and before 7 o'clock, by mutual agreement and without even the guiding hand of a policeman, the enthusiasts formed a line.

It extended at first north on Broadway and grew until it reached Fortieth street and then it began to turn the corner and to extend toward the west in cross streets. Many who had denied themselves their breakfast with a view to getting first choice of seats waited patiently for the box office to open. Also many well-dressed women who had made hasty toilets and a sacrifice of sleep for the same purpose, showed that they were weary long before Special Policeman Gallan, employed at the opera house, stepped out and announced that "The sale of tickets begins, so keep your place." By the time the sale did begin the line, much longer and several times more impatient, spried up and began to linger $10, $5, and $2 bills.

And after that, such a wait. It seemed to those waiting that the man in the box office was terribly handicapped. "He's slower than a subway local," piped a young woman near the end of the line, who couldn't really tell how well the ticket seller was doing his work. There was a long line in the lobby all day. The sale will continue until Monday.

Ex-Judge Parker Gets a Job.

Former Chief Justice Alton B. Parker received two commissionership appointments in the supreme court today. Justice O'Gorman appointed Mr. Parker, Mose Herriman and Charles P. Dillon commissioners to assess the value of property to be acquired by the city in connection with piers, old numbers 16 and 17 East river, and property to be acquired for the improvement of the East river front.

Justice O'Gorman also appointed Mr. Parker, John F. Cowan and Edward Cahill commissioners for the same purposes in connection with piers 9 and 10 East river. It is said that each commissioner will receive between $5,000 and $7,000 on each commission, as that is the amount usually earned by such proceedings. Mr. Parker took luncheon with the justices of the supreme court in their private dining room in the county court house.

Over Fifty Years a Janitor.

Samuel Chester Haight begins today at the age of 73 his 51st year as janitor of "Pig Hollow" primary school which is now known as No. 127 and which is located in Thirty-seventh street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues. The thousand odd children and a score of teachers who are under his charge made a holiday out of the anniversary of his appointment and presented him with many nice things. The teachers of his school gave him a purse of $50 in gold, the little girls of the kindergarten presented him with a bunch of 50 huge yellow chrysanthemums. Haight's picture was hung up in the principal's room and Miss Clara American, who has been principal for eight years, presented the purse to Mr. Haight on behalf of the other teachers.

Associate Superintendent O'Brien presided at the gathering. The children sang songs and recited verses about Mr. Haight and he made a speech. During his 50 years of service in the one school, Mr. Haight has seen no less than 10,000 children pass through the classes and grow to be men and women. As he said some of the boys he has seen there have become aldermen and senators and others have settled permanently in Sing Sing.

Motor Is to Invade the Air.

After much argument the New York Motor club has incorporated in its constitution its purpose to promote motoring in the air as well as on land and water. At first the idea was not considered favorably by the club, which has never perfected a permanent organization.

"When airships have shown that they can do anything," said Charles H. Hyde, one of the directors, "it will be time enough to incorporate the name in the constitution."

The opinion of several others was that airship inventors should be given encouragement, but when a vote was taken serial navigation lost 11 to 9. Then a reconsideration was granted and reargument in favor of recognition carried the day, only three votes being cast in the negative. Capt. Baldwin's promised attempt to navigate high over New York and even under the Brooklyn bridge will therefore have interested observers of the new organization.

Tower Hill Ghost Again.

The Tower hill ghost has again invaded the Martensen section of Brooklyn. The apparition has been seen near Greenwood cemetery. Strangers who walk along the narrow path skirting the cemetery fence are warned by the police not to linger near the toll bridge which crosses the Thirty-ninth street railroad out at Tenth avenue where the ghost was first seen by Mrs. Ardt.

Mrs. Ardt told her neighbors of meeting "the thing" which she described as resembling the shadowy outline of a human form, coming from the Tenth avenue entrance to the cemetery. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Maguire, who have lived on the border of the cemetery for years, declare that they, too, had seen a figure emerge from the cemetery fence, but had not waited long enough to make positive its identification.

Policemen who have seen the apparition say that it leaves the cemetery inclosure between 11 and 12 o'clock at night and wanders to the toll bridge where it turns toward Kensington and disappears near the site of the burned tower. Motormen of the Bath Beach and Coney Island trains have seen the shadowy figure and more than once have stopped their trains when it seemed that they would run over it.

'Tis Ever Thus

The principles of Democracy, north and south, are shown by the election of November 8 to be quite divergent. The national platform declared for certain issues, named a candidate who was said to stand for principles which were sure to secure the voters, and the result is seen—the south stands alone, giving its electoral vote, while the northern Democrats, who named the man and platform, failed to give a single vote. It makes the south appear ridiculous. It had little voice in naming the nominee and in determining the platform, but gives a unanimous vote to assist the section which had all the say, but which gives no vote. —New Bern (N. C.) Journal.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Men are at their best when they are well fed, and so are most animals.

That old saw that the shortest and sweetest route to a man's heart is by way of his stomach is all fudge, or nearly all.

And yet the fact remains, and there are none to dispute it that a square meal will put a man in good humor about as quickly as anything else, and if it is kept up for awhile it is mighty apt to go to his heart, or at least open the way to it.

Garrick says: "Heaven sends us good meat, but the devil sends cooks," or rather he cribbed it from John Taylor, and he probably got it from Tusser, who said some years prior to 1580 that "God sendeth and giveth both mouth and the meat." Taylor evidently deviled that clever saying into, "God sends meat and the devil sends cooks."

But it isn't the cooks that come nearest to us in these times, but the waiters. Cooks, as a rule, are kept in the dark or at least in the background. And maybe it is just as well, for cooking is not the cleanest sort of work, and cooks are not particularly appetizing when in their working clothes.

This doesn't apply to wife, or to mother, or to the dear girl, but only to hashery cooks.

* * * * *

But all this is hardly to the point since these observations were excited by a line from "Anxious Enquirer" asking if lady waiters in restaurants will make good wives. He says he knows one against whom not a disparaging word can be uttered, except that she is a waiter in a popular restaurant.

He further declares that she is a drawing card, and that men scramble to get to her table, and all because she is such a good waiter, and of such sweet disposition that one loves to linger while she waits.

There isn't anything wrong with this waiter girl, not according to his story.

And as to her making a good wife—well, why not? The fact that she is a favorite with the lunchers and diners proves that she has good points about her, and that she possesses real worth.

Well, why shouldn't a waiter girl make a good wife, even a better one than some others? Her experience in serving meals ought to serve her well when serving meals on her own account. Besides, she has fine opportunities for learning what is fit to eat and how to prepare it.

The waiter girl is not always a cook, but that part of it can be easily learned when she knows what she wants to cook, and has a man who can produce the raw material in sufficient quantity and of such quality as to make a fat kitchen, for a fat kitchen makes cooking easy, so it has been said.

* * * * *

There are hash-slingers, and then there are others.

If the waiter, or waitress, as the young man calls his enamorata, is all he claims for her she is one of the others, and there is no reason why she may not be a good and altogether worthy girl and still be a waiter in a restaurant.

In these days when so many girls are seeking for places, and so many feel compelled to work at something, some will be forced to accept engagements in places not altogether to their liking and not as good as they deserve, while others will drop into situations for which they are not well fitted.

But in due course of time they all find their level. Some haven't the patience to await their time, or not being well taught and trained they take the wrong course and instead of going up higher go down lower.

Good home training counts for much with girls. In the first place, it is the very best recommendation they can have, also the very best safeguard. Of course they must take proper care of themselves, keep good hours and avoid anything that their good mothers would not approve.

* * * * *

Waiter girls are greatly annoyed by silly fellows who think that because they are working girls they are not entitled to polite treatment.

You may have noticed some of these smarties guying the girls and acting very fresh and silly. These are generally mashers or would-be mashers. Some are coarse and vulgar and seem to take delight in showing their ill-breeding.

Nor are these confined to cheap restaurants, but may be seen even in the best of them, but they are more common in the more common places.

And if there is anything more disgusting and annoying than a vulgar freshie it is so rare that it is not often seen. They not only annoy and disgust waiters but patrons of the restaurant as well. You may have sometimes wished for a baseball bat and a permit to do some knocking.

It is policy, however, to ignore them and let them go at that, for many of them would like nothing better than a chance to do some loud, nasty talking.

These fellows are hated and dreaded by waiter girls. Sometimes they get a bit of fun out of one who is as silly as he thinks he is smart. But as long as he doesn't know they are having fun with him he will be none the worse for it, and go on thinking that he is a prime favorite.

* * * * *

A good waiter girl, other things being equal, will make a good wife for the right man—a better wife than some who feel themselves too good to speak to her.

Idleness is as bad for girls as it is for boys, and will as surely lead them to bad ends. Therefore it is better that they should work in restaurants than not to work at all. But most girls who have homes can find enough to do there if they only look for it closely.

It is a shame that girls should lose cast merely because they work in order to live honestly and comfortably. But they themselves are somewhat to blame for this because they can generally compel respect by their manners and conduct. Many of them look down on themselves. And how many of them wouldn't turn their noses up at waiter girls if they were not compelled to work themselves?

Girls should be taught from infancy that it is more to their credit to work than to be dependent and live in idleness. Also that a working girl is just as good as a working boy, and is entitled to equal respect.

It will be more difficult to lead girls and women into this way of thinking than men, for women folks are a little peculiar in that way.

The Memorial Hall

The Varied Uses It Will Serve.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—I was pleased to notice in this morning's Gazette a very admirable article on the proposed memorial hall, from the pen of Maj. A. P. Burchfield. Your editorial indorsement of this article is also very much to be commended and you may be sure that it will be very cordially received by all the old soldiers of Allegheny county.

There has been much discussion in the newspapers of late regarding this proposed memorial building. A movement has been set on foot to sidetrack the memorial building by giving to the people of Allegheny county a monument, which is thought by some to be more fitting as a memorial to the old soldiers of Allegheny county than is a memorial building. Speaking for the old soldiers, I desire to say that the monument idea will not receive their unanimous indorsement; what they want and what they are rightly entitled to is a memorial building, a structure wherein will be forever enshrined the memorials of the Allegheny county men in connection with the great civil war. In my work as chief mustering officer of the department, I have visited on many occasions the various Grand Army posts located in Allegheny county, and with one exception they are located in third and fourth stories of buildings which do not have elevator service; this makes it very difficult for the old soldiers to attend their post meetings, because many of them have now reached such an age or are so burdened with infirmities that they find it difficult to attend their post meetings, and certainly if there is anything in this country that should be encouraged today it is this feature of Grand Army work. The old soldier loves to attend his post meetings and this is not easy when it is considered that he must climb three or four flights of stairs in order to reach his post hall.

There is one other side to this subject that has not received much comment as yet and it is, in my judgment, a matter of most vital importance not only to the Grand Army of the Republic, which in a few years will pass away entirely, but to the people of the country as a whole, and that is the necessity of providing in this city a memorial hall which shall always remain an object lesson of patriotism. This building would do much more than merely provide for the old soldier, after the Grand Army is gone, their relics will be preserved by their sons, who today constitute under the organization known as Sons of Veterans a very considerable body. Patriotic societies will always exist in this country, and the more of them the better, because if there is anything that is needed in America today it is the lesson of American loyalty and valor; there are thousands of people coming to this country yearly, who are not acquainted with American institutions, with American ideals and with American conceptions of the highest order of citizenship. The immigrants come to us with many diverse ideas and ideals and it has been the work of America to bring together these various ideas and ideals into one harmonious American whole.

How better can we instill the ideas of American patriotism than by having in this city a magnificent memorial building, whereon may be read stories of the great civil war?

Again, this building would prove a valuable supplement to the work of the public schools, for it would be the visible and tangible manifestation of what was done by the men of '61 and '65 to make America what it is today.

It is contemplated to have in this memorial hall tablets bearing the name and a brief record of every soldier who enlisted from Allegheny county and who served his country in the civil war. In time this record will be a source of the greatest pride to the descendants of these men, who will make their homes in this county and in this vicinity, and this simple record will have an immense meaning to the coming generations. As I am not a Pennsylvania soldier, having enlisted in an Ohio regiment, my name will not be on these tablets, but as a citizen of Pittsburgh for over 34 years, I feel that I can urge this point without any charge of selfishness.

Not only are the old soldiers of Allegheny county and the members of the Sons of Veterans heartily in favor of this movement, but I believe the citizens as a whole are generally strongly in favor of the plan to build in the city of Pittsburgh a memorial building which shall stand as a permanent and useful memorial to our soldiers of the civil war.

CHARLES O. SMITH,
Chief Mustering Officer, Department of Pennsylvania, G. A. R.
Pittsburgh, Nov. 17, 1904.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—I am pleased to learn of the position Maj. Burchfield takes with reference to a soldiers' memorial hall.

If money is to be spent to commemorate the valiant deeds of our heroic dead, it is a matter of common sense to have in mind the erection of a monument that will be utilized by the people. What better form can it take than the erection of an auditorium sufficiently large to hold an audience of not less than 10,000 people or more?

Our city has no such place. The Exposition auditorium, being the nearest approach to it, is not large enough.

I distinctly remember the evening session of the national Eisteddfod held by the Pittsburgh Eisteddfod society on Decoration day of 1902, and the decisive illustration of the need of a large auditorium in our city.

The national Eisteddfod was acknowledged to be the greatest feast of vocal music ever held in this country in an artistic sense, and though every inch of standing room was occupied, including the vestibule, it is estimated that fully 2,000 people were turned away from the door. Though the best seats in the house were sold at a popular price of $2 many offers of $10 were made by people who were desirous of enjoying the concert with some degree of comfort.

The Pittsburgh Eisteddfod society have in contemplation the holding of an international Eisteddfod and bringing to this city some of the best choirs from England, Wales and the continent. Such an Eisteddfod means the expenditure of a large sum of money and requires a very large auditorium to accommodate an audience sufficiently large to justify such expenditure.

Let us by all means have a memorial hall, and the memories of the great deeds and unselfish sacrifices of the heroes it commemorates will ever be to the large audiences that shall gather there a stimulus to progressive effort. But that we may secure such a hall, more is necessary than the expenditure of money. Means must be provided for management and supervision of the work that will guarantee the construction of a building worthy of its noble purpose. EISTEDDFOD.

Unique Society Function.

A barn dance was given in the Expo. building at he fair grounds Thursday night. Pumpkins, corn, apples and other products of the farm were used for decorations, lights blinked at the dancers through most villainous looking jack-o'-lanterns and Smith's orchestra was hid away somewhere in a fodder shock. Misses Jane Furst and Elizabeth Gephart arranged the dance.—Bellefonte Republican.

Easy as the Old.

The new form of ballot is as easy to vote as the old one, if you know how—especially if you want to vote a straight ticket. It only requires a cross in a square instead of in a circle, as before.—Elizabeth Herald.

THE TRUST CANDIDATE.

The Truth Confessed Now That the Election is Over.

From the Washington Post (Ind.-Dem.).

The fact is that Judge Parker was originally proposed to the gentlemen who pass as "southern leaders" on the score of his standing with the great financial corporations and combinations of the country. He was proposed as the man of all men who could secure their substantial support. Judge Parker's sponsors explained that the trusts feared Theodore Roosevelt, and would make haste to rally around the banner of his antithesis—Judge Parker. They promised everything. They took the "southern leaders" up to the hilltop and showed them the fertile lands of Canaan smiling in the golden sunlight. Then the leaders went down among their people and spread the glad tidings right and left.

It is the old story, or 40 years the south has submitted to the dictation of the northern Democrats, accepted their candidates, their platforms, their ideas and their domination. Through 10 successive campaigns the southerners have furnished the army on the firing line, endured the heat and burden of the fight, taken the hard knocks and borne the hardships and the risks. They have never named a nominee, planned a campaign or presided over a celebration.

MONEY IS VOTED FOR NEW TEMPLE

Scottish Rite Masons Appropriate $200,000 for Fine Building in Oakland District.

REUNION WILL CLOSE TODAY

The plans for the new Pittsburgh Masonic temple, which is projected for the Oakland district, soon will be realized. Last night the Scottish Rite Masons of the valley of Pittsburgh unanimously passed a resolution for the appropriation of $200,000 for the erection of a new building. The proposed structure will be erected upon property recently purchased adjoining St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, between Craft avenue and Halket street. It will cost approximately $800,000.

The other Masonic bodies in Allegheny county will have the matter brought before them at their next meeting. The question of selling the present building in Fifth avenue will be discussed. It is owned by the Masonic Fund association. In the event of its disposition all the Masonic bodies in the city will meet in the new temple.

The Scottish Rite Masons are enthusiastic over their plans. Two years ago the idea was first brought up in their organization and a committee was immediately appointed to devise ways and means for the consummation of the project. It had almost unanimous support from the start, and the interest of every member was enlisted from the start. While no details as to the character and size of the new building have been agreed upon, it is certain to be an architectural adornment to Pittsburgh.

There was a large attendance at the third day's meeting of the annual reunion yesterday. There were many out-of-town visitors and open house was the rule at the temple throughout the day. Degrees from the twenty-second to the twenty-ninth inclusive were conferred. The reunion will close today and degrees up to the thirty-second will be conferred upon candidates.

This is the first time that a general meeting has been held since the return of Pittsburgh commanderies from the trip to the triennial conclave at San Francisco, and a pleasant interchange of reminiscences occurred while crowds collected in the lobbies about the building.

CAME TO MARRY A MAN, GIRL FINDS HIM IN PRISON

Promised Husband of Armenian Lass Is Convicted of Arson While She Is on Sea.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—After traveling all the way from Armenia to wed her sweetheart, Sampat Avedesian of Providence, Marie Narjarian learned on her arrival in Boston that he was serving a two and one-half years' sentence in Dedham jail for arson. He had been convicted while the girl was on the ocean.

The girl was detained by the immigration officials in spite of the fact that a brother of Avedesian offered to care for her until her fiance was released. Later, however, Armenian friends promised to look out for her, and she was released. She declares she will marry Avedesian as soon as his term expires. She is convinced he is innocent.

BOARD OF CONTROL ADJOURNS

Guiding Body of Epworth Leagues Select Denver as Convention City.

After selecting Denver as the seat of the next biennial international convention of the Epworth leagues the board of control of the leagues adjourned yesterday after a two-day session at the Monongahela house. R. S. Copeland of Ann Arbor, Mich.; Thomas Filben of Pacific Grove, Cal., and M. S. Daniels of Newark, N. J., were appointed a committee to arrange for the convention.

The board of control to serve for the coming year was appointed as follows:

Bishop J. P. Berry, Buffalo; M. J. Daniels, Newark, N. J.; Ward Platt, Buffalo; J. E. Bell, Altoona; J. R. Clark, Cincinnati; C. E. Reisner, Denver; B. L. Paine, Lincoln, Neb.; J. W. Frizzelle, Watseka, Ill.; E. E. Rawls, Indianapolis; R. S. Copeland, Ann Arbor; H. A. Schroettes, Covington, Ky.; Thomas Filben, Pacific Coast, Cal.; S. J. Herben, editor of the Epworth League Herald, Chicago, and Frederick Munz, Cincinnati.

Two new offices were established by the board, that of assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. I. Garlan Pennell of Atlanta was appointed to the latter position, and J. L. Price of South Atlanta, Ga., to the former. Both of these officers have been assigned to work exclusively among the negroes.

WOMAN WAS FOUND.

News of Henrietta Hoffman, 94 Years Old, Wanted in Germany, Turns Up in Allegheny.

Several days ago Mayor Hays received from Dr. G. Sachse of Leipsic, Germany, a letter requesting that the whereabouts of Mrs. Henrietta Ernestine Becker be made known to him if possible. The relatives of the woman, who is 94 years old, communicated with the mayor yesterday and the desired information has been forwarded to Germany.

The letter to Mayor Hays contained no hint of what was wanted with the information and the relatives of the woman have no idea why Dr. Sachse should seek her. So far as is known, none of her relatives is now living in Germany, and for this reason she is puzzled to understand what is wanted by Mayor Hays' correspondent.

In 1847 Henrietta Ernestine Becker and her husband arrived in this country from Pegau, Germany. They came via the old Pennsylvania canal to Pittsburgh. On the way over their child fell into the canal and was drowned. The couple settled in Allegheny, where Becker died. The widow was married again and her second husband, named Hoffman, died some years ago. Mrs. Hoffman is now living with her daughter, Mrs. M. Baetz, at No. 811 Chestnut street, Allegheny, and despite her extreme age enjoys good health.

CONDITION IS CRITICAL.

So Cables United States Consul General Fowler, from Chefoo, Concerning Port Arthur's Defenses.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Consul General Fowler today cabled the state department from Chefoo that the situation at Port Arthur is extremely critical, the outer forts having fallen into the possession of the Japanese.

Consul Fowler also states that three Japanese torpedo boat destroyers are lying outside of Chefoo harbor, and that the Russian crew of the torpedo boat destroyer blown up yesterday are transferring their arms and supplies to a Chinese cruiser which is posted in front of the Russian consulate.

HEAVY FOG CAUSES FATAL TROLLEY COLLISION

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Nov. 17.—In a head-on collision today on the Rapid Transit electric street car line, due to a heavy fog, J. Woodall, a passenger, was killed. Motorman Berkner and Motorman Harris will probably die.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS SEE LOCAL INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

Sir Ernest Cassel, King Edward's Private Secretary, and Jacob Schiff, New York Banker and Broker, Shown Sights at Homestead.

A party of distinguished sightseers in Pittsburgh yesterday included Sir Ernest Cassel, private secretary and financial agent of King Edward of England; Jacob Schiff, a New York banker and broker, and Robert Fleming, a wealthy Londoner who is making a tour of America. The party were guests of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, but were also honor guests at a luncheon given at the home of Mr. George Westinghouse on the evening of their arrival here. That party, in addition to the foreigners and Mr. Schiff, also included several Pittsburgh and Philadelphia officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Yesterday morning the party visited the East Pittsburgh works of the Westinghouse Electric Company and were then taken by special train to the Homestead plant of the Carnegie Company. After inspecting the latter they returned to Pittsburgh by way of the Ohio connecting line and the Brilliant cut-off, leaving Union station for the west about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Before returning east they probably will visit the world's fair.

As to Sir Ernest Cassel's visit to Pittsburgh there is considerable speculation. It has been said that the king of England is desirous of making some investments of his private funds, and that his tendency is toward Pittsburgh securities. Of this, however, none of those who were hosts of Sir Ernest during his brief visit in this city cared to comment. Mr. H. C. Frick joined the sightseeing party yesterday in their excursion to East Pittsburgh and Homestead.

TO TAKE UP COLLECTIONS FOR THE SICK AND POOR

Appeal to Be Read in All the Churches for the Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association.

Next Sunday is collection day in the Protestant churches for the hospital Saturday and Sunday association. The Sunday before Thanksgiving was regarded as a proper time for an appeal in behalf of the sick and injured poor. Samuel Harper, secretary of the association, has sent a communication to all the churches and it is hoped that at least $5,000 will be raised. For the year ending June 1 the association cared for 230 resident patients in the associated hospitals and its efforts have greatly increased the actual charity work the hospitals are able to do.

The association goes to the churches this year with the best indorsements it has ever had. Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead of the Protestant Episcopal church has written a strong letter to the clergy, which he directs shall be read to the people. In it he says, among other things:

"What could be better as an expression of our gratitude to God for all His gifts to us personally and as a community, than liberal offerings for the help of the suffering in our hospitals?"

The Methodist Episcopal church has also given a strong indorsement, declaiming that "there is no charity that asks your support that is better managed and that produces more satisfactory results." This is signed by the Rev. T. N. Boyle, presiding elder of the Allegheny district; the Rev. J. F. Murray, presiding elder of the McKeesport district; the Rev. G. W. Terbush, presiding elder of the Washington district; the Rev. S. T. Mitchell, presiding elder of the Blairsville district, and the Rev. James Mechen, presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district.

Another all-day sewing of the Ladies' association will be held next Tuesday in the Maternity ward of the Allegheny general hospital. This is the second sewing held this year, Mrs. Theodore Stonerod, the president, being very energetic.

OFFICE MEN CONDEMN METHODS OF DIRECTORS

Members of the Office Men's club heard an interesting paper read at their meeting at 416 Wood street last night by W. W. Edgar, an expert accountant, on "Loose Methods in Municipal Accounting." The paper was the principal one of the evening and Mr. Edgar made the point that there is too much red tape about municipal accounting. In the discussion which followed the transferring of money from the purpose for which it was appropriated by councils to other purposes without the formality of putting an ordinance through councils was widely discussed and condemned. The handling of bad debt accounts and the collection of rents were also discussed.

WILL TURN ELK LOOSE IN BIG GAME PRESERVE

PITCHER CASE DISMISSED WITH SEVERE REPRIMAND

Miss Harold's Friends Desired to Avoid Publicity of War Department Proceedings.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary Taft today disposed of the case of Lieut.-Col. William L. Pitcher, Twenty-eighth Infantry, by directing the chief of staff to write a letter to the officer, a copy of which will be placed on record and will also be on file as a part of the efficiency record of Col. Pitcher.

This officer was accused of becoming engaged to Miss Harold of this city, and a few days before the date set for the wedding, unceremoniously breaking the engagement.

In disposing of the case the letter states that lack of evidence and a desire on the part of friends of the young lady as well as the publicity it would bring to other persons, has determined the department to cease proceedings. The letter is critical of Col. Pitcher and in closing contains a severe reprimand for the language he used in communications to the department.

UNSKILLED LABORERS UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

President Roosevelt Authorizes the Creation of a Board to Make Examinations.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The president has promulgated regulations for the appointment of unskilled laborers in the civil service and for the selection of eligibles for such appointment and has authorized the creation of a board to be composed of a representative from each of the executive departments. This board is to be under the general supervision of the Civil Service commission, but will operate largely on independent lines.

It will be required to make examinations of applicants for labor positions in the service and to prepare a list of eligibles from which all appointments are to be made. Applicants for appointment are required to be citizens of the United States, "physically and mentally qualified, of good character and habits and of requisite experience as attested by vouchers."

THREE GIRLS WERE BURNED

One Died of Injuries, While the Others Are in Very Serious Condition.

RESCUED BY HER PLAYMATE

One child was burned to death and two others seriously burned by accidental contact with fire in this vicinity yesterday. In the first instance a brother was the indirect cause of his sister's death, while a second child was saved from cremation by the heroic efforts of a playmate who suffered injury for her bravery. The victims were:

MARIE VITH, aged 2, of 2324 Berg avenue, South Side, died from her burns.

MARY JUHAS, aged 3, of Dixon street, Homestead, probably fatally burned by falling into a bonfire.

SUSIE BITOS, aged 7, of Dixon street, Homestead, seriously burned while rescuing the Juhas child.

While his parents were absent from the house yesterday afternoon a young brother of Marie Vith seized the opportunity to parade about the house with a campaign torch, the property of his father. To add realism the boy lighted the torch, and marching under a pair of curtains, near which his 2-year-old sister was playing, set fire to them.

The flames immediately communicated to the clothing of the infant sister. Neighbors were attracted by the screams of the children, and running to their assistance, stamped out the flames and called a physician to treat the little girl, who was suffering intensely. She was horribly burned about the face and body and died at 6 o'clock.

While playing about a bonfire in the rear of her home yesterday afternoon Mary Juhas, aged 3, of Dixon street, Homestead, fell upon the burning embers and was almost instantly a mass of flames. Susie Bitos, aged 7, a playmate, rushed to the assistance of her companion, bravely entering into the blazing fire. With difficulty she carried the younger child away from the flames, but not before she herself sustained painful and serious burns about the face and arms.

The Juhas girl was badly burned about the face and body, and her condition is most critical.

WEALTHY NEGRO SEEKS TO RECOVER VAST ACRES

Claims to Have Inherited Land in the Adirondack Mountains from the Original Purchaser.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 17.—George T. Downing of this city, a wealthy negro, once restaurant keeper of the house of representatives in Washington, and the man in whose arms Charles Sumner died, has instituted proceedings to secure thousands of acres in the Adirondack mountains in New York which are now held by ex-Lieut. Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, J. Pierpont Morgan and other millionaires, and which, it is alleged, were purchased by the present holders under a misapprehension. The territory takes in most of the forests which many men of wealth have turned into summer camps of luxury.

It is claimed that the Adirondack regions which the Downing heirs seek to recover were originally purchased of the natives by Gerritt Smith, the abolitionist leader.

VAUDEVILLE IN CHURCH.

Men's Club of the Knoxville Presbyterian Congregation Gives its First Entertainment.

Two comedians, a magician, a series of illustrated songs and a cinematograph formed the program of a performance equal to many given on the vaudeville stage presented last night in the Knoxville Presbyterian church on the occasion of the first meeting of the newly organized Men's club of the church.

By suggestion of the pastor, the Rev. W. A. Jones, a preliminary meeting was held a month ago to organize the club, and last night, from an attendance of 140 men, 120 affiliated themselves with the organization and elected the following officers: President, Prof. H. D. Twitmyer; first vice president, F. J. Gosser, Esq.; second vice president, M. D. Laytin; secretary, John B. Miller; treasurer, C. W. Church, and J. Milton Ryall, chairman of the executive committee.

After the business meeting closed the entertainment opened. The feature of the performance were the comedians, Fred T. Loeffler and D. H. Frederick, members of the church and the new organization. Loeffler was "made up" as President Roosevelt and the impersonation was excellent. Frederick, garbed in the gown of the supreme court, impersonated Judge Parker to perfection. Both spoke on "How It Happened" and kept the audience in a high pitch of humor. Prof. La Race, a professional magician, entertained with sleight-of-hand tricks and was followed by a soloist, who sang illustrated songs. Moving pictures by the cinematograph closed the performance.

DEFEND MAJ. SIBERT.

Engineers Society of Western Pennsylvania Deny Allegation of Bridge Company.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—A communication was received at the war department today from the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania, denying the allegation made in the brief filed by the attorneys for the Union Bridge Company that Maj. Sibert had sought an opportunity to give his views before the society on the raising of the Allegheny river bridges.

The letter says that this was not the case; that the invitation to Maj. Sibert to address the society was extended through the invitation committee without any previous correspondence with the major. It is emphatically denied that Maj. Sibert in any way asked for the privilege of speaking on this subject.

BAPTIST UNION REPORTS.

Annual Meeting of City Mission Society Disclosed Favorable Conditions.

Pittsburgh and Allegheny Baptist union held its annual meeting in Beth-Eden church, Allegheny, last evening and heard encouraging reports from officers. NOVEL SCHEME STARTED HERE

Open-Eyed City Employes Promoting Company to Dispose of Dry Refuse.

STUDIED NEW YORK SYSTEM

Just because two city employes kept their eyes open while in New York, had receptive minds for useful intelligence and were able to enlist capital to carry out the ideas they had learned, Pittsburgh is about to see a new company launched on novel lines. The company is called the National Rubbish and Delivery Company. It will begin by handling the rubbish that accumulates in business houses. Later it may seek the right to establish a system of rubbish boxes at street corners, and further along it may go into the business of taking rubbish from the cellars of private houses. If the garbage company, the American Reduction Company, carries out its threat of notifying householders that it will carry away nothing but garbage, rejecting tin cans, paper, broken bottles and other like refuse, the new company bids fair to make money carrying that stuff away for a consideration.

The company fondly hopes that insurance underwriters will call them blessed, that business houses dependent upon an occasional laborer for cleaning out their cellars will look upon them with approval and that householders, tired of waiting for the small boy to offer to take ashes and other refuse from their cellars, will give thanks.

L. S. Levin, assistant city solicitor, is counsel for the company, and will apply for a charter. James A. Clark, county commissioner, is president; John Harnish, connected with a prominent construction company, is vice president, and J. D. Zimmerman, an express agent for 29 years, is secretary and treasurer. The directors are Clark, Harnish, Levin and John C. Flynn, assistant superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers. John Florig, also an assistant superintendent of highways and sewers, is one of the stockholders.

Mr. Levin, as counsel, is not thoroughly informed on the practical side of the venture, but he has been assured by several business men that they will welcome a company that, at stated periods, will take away the paper, paper boxes, broken stuff and the many other things that accumulate in a business house. It is understood that the fire bureau approves the scheme, as the rubbish in cellars in the downtown district is a frequent cause of destructive fires.

On a trip to New York Florig and Flinn investigated that city's method of disposing of rubbish other than garbage. "Dry refuse" is deposited in scows and carried down the bay to an elaborate plant fitted out with moving endless belts, upon which the rubbish is thrown, to be removed by men stationed along the belt. The city sells the material, which consists of bottles, broken glass, leather, paper of all grades, rags of all kinds, tin cans, from which the solder and even the covering of tin has been removed, the solder and tin bringing a good price.

The company's promoters have figured out that business houses will pay for the removal of waste, which can then be assorted, baled or barreled and sold. It might even be remunerative to have men stationed at the public dumps to go over the rubbish and so assort it.

It is asserted that there is no significance attached to the fact that some of the promoters are city employes; that there is no intention of asking the city to enter into a contract for the removal of rubbish, and that the new company has no connection with the American Reduction Company, which has the contract for removing garbage.

POSTPONE BUILDING OF HOME

West Virginia Odd Fellows Vote to Wait Another Year—Next Meeting at Charleston.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The matter of choosing a location for the proposed Odd Fellows home was the principal business before the West Virginia grand lodge today. Representatives of half a dozen cities, all eager to secure the home, found themselves in a hopeless minority when the question of postponing the selection for another year was voted upon. Nearly every offer included a bonus of a farm, but the grand lodge has but $21,000 in the building fund. This will be increased and the Daughters of Rebekah will assist in raising money during the year.

Charleston was selected as the place of meeting next year. Officers were nominated and the election will take place tomorrow.

AUDITORS TAKE TESTIMONY.

Attorneys Hear Complaints of Depositors in Former State Bank of Pittsburgh.

Hundreds of depositors assembled in the offices of the State Bank of Pittsburgh in Bloomfield yesterday and presented their claims on the defunct bank to Attorneys Albert Millar and Leroy Wolf of Harrisburg, who have been appointed auditors by the state. City Treasurer John F. Steel, the receiver, and H. A. Phillips, accountant, and Attorney D. M. Miller assisted the auditors.

Considerable testimony was taken from depositors who contemplte contesting the apportionment of the funds of the bank, which from present indications point to a payment of 30 per cent of the deposits at the time of insolvency. The auditors will require several days to complete their work, after which they will prepare their report to the court.

COUNCILS WOULD EVICT RAILROAD

Pennsylvania Company Is Using Portion of Street, Presumably Without Right.

SALARIES ARE TO BE RAISED

Allegheny councils have determined to proceed against the Pennsylvania company and compel it to abandon parts of city property said to be occupied by its tracks. In common council last night John R. Hendricks introduced a resolution authorizing the city solicitor to proceed against the Pennsylvania company with eviction suits. The measure was fought by Thomas McHenry, but was passed almost unanimously.

Although the measure is general in its scope, it is directly applicable to the case of Church avenue, a portion of which has for years been occupied by the railroad. A measure similar in many respects to that offered last night was to have been considered in select council on Wednesday, but Messrs. Deverts and Bealor left the meeting while a vote was being taken, and by so doing broke a quorum.

The piece of ground in dispute lies west of Federal street and extends to Sherman avenue. For years the company has had tracks on the ground, and at present many local passenger trains are run in and out on the tracks there. Some time ago Director McIlvain asked the Pennsylvania company to build a stone wall along the park front from Federal street to Sherman avenue. The wall was to elevate the park several feet above that portion of Church avenue used by the railroad. The officials of the latter refused to grant the request and the measure to appoint a committee to inquire into the rights of the company had on city property was introduced in councils. This started the agitation that resulted in the action taken last night.

Upon the call of wards an ordinance was introduced fixing the salaries of the employes at the City home. The ordinance asks for a slight increase in the salaries from the resident physician to the male nurse, and the aggregate increase will amount to about $1,000 a year.

LECTURED ON GEMS.

George F. Kunz, Expert, Discoursed on Them and Methods of Mining and Cutting.

George F. Kunz, the famous gem expert, delivered a lecture last night at the conservatory of music in Dithridge street, under the auspices of the Academy of Science and Art. The society has the use of the lecture rooms in the Carnegie museum, but because of the present remodeling of the building engaged the conservatory of music.

Mr. Kunz is the author of a book on "Gems and Precious Stones of North America," and is in charge of the United States geological survey's exhibit of radium at the St. Louis fair. His lecture was illustrated with lantern slides, picturing the primitive and modern methods of mining precious stones; the ancient and modern methods of cutting and grinding them; the sapphires and sapphire mines of Montana, Ceylon and India; the tourmalin quarries of Haddam, Conn., and pictures of gems in the various processes of cutting.

He also made some interesting experiments with the aid of an electrical machine and an ultra violet lamp, and showed a choice collection of gems, some of them belonging to the Carnegie museum. The latter were exhibited to the audience after the lecture by Douglas Stewart, assistant curator of the museum.

TWENTY THOUSAND MEN ARE PUT BACK TO WORK

With Settlement of Political Conditions of the Country Eastern Railroads Are Experiencing Great Revival of Business.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—With settled political conditions as a basis for financial confidence and harmony in all other elements that make for prosperity, the railroads leading to New York city are experiencing a great revival of trade. Developing when the election of President Roosevelt was a foregone conclusion, since that time it has so grown that traffic now is expected to smash all records.

To meet this new condition, all the railroads coming direct to New York have within the last six weeks restored to the pay rolls more than 20,000 men, employes dropped during a period of a few months ending with June 1 last.

In this list the Pennsylvania railroad, which made the most sweeping reduction, has put back to work on its many systems 11,000 men; the New York Central has restored 6,000 more; the Reading system in the neighborhood of 2,000 and the independent lines as many more. At every railroad headquarters in New York and Philadelphia today the statement was "running full time in every department," or "will be running on full time very soon."

FOUR MEN LOST LIVES BY GAS

Entire Working Force of a New Jersey Plant Were Asphyxiated.

TRIED TO SAVE EACH OTHER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Four men were asphyxiated by gas at Dover, N. J., today at the plant of the Dover, Rockaway and Port Oram Gas Company. They constituted the entire working force of the plant, and were discovered by George E. Bunnell, a former employe, who, on visiting the plant, found it apparently deserted, with engines running under a full head of steam and scarcely any water in the boilers.

After shutting down the engines and attending to the boilers, Bunnell went through the works and found the four men beneath an open trapdoor in the meter room with the space under the floor filled with gas from a broken valve in the drip.

The men were William Bulmer, 17 years old, employed as a fireman; Elias S. Chamberlain, the engineer; Otto Eidschum, a painter, and a man known only as Gustave, also a painter.

The men lay together in a heap, and Bunnell, noticing that the man on top was alive, entered the trap to rescue him, but became so weakened by the gas that he could not lift the body to the floor, four feet above, and was barely able to get out himself. He staggered outside, but was unable to attract anyone's attention, and it was some time before he recovered sufficiently to telephone for assistance. When help finally arrived, the four men were dead.

From their positions it is thought that Bulmer went through the trap first to fix the broken valve and was overcome by the gas, and that in an effort at rescue Chamberlain, Eidschum and Gustave followed and lost their lives.

BOARD OF TRADE DINNER SUCCESS

Oakland Business Men Hear Addresses by Leaders of Community and City.

BRIGHT FUTURE INDICATED

Oakland business men to the number of 175 met at the annual dinner of the Oakland board of trade last evening at the Buckingham, Craft avenue, and heard many addresses on topics of interest both to that community and to Greater Pittsburgh. The Oakland section, its troubles with ore dust and Junction hollow smoke, its institutional present and future and its natural beauty were the subjects of these addresses, and the close attention given the speakers showed the activity of the interest of the business men of the community in all that pertains to it.

Two addresses in particular awakened much applause. These were the one by Col. A. J. Logan on "Greater Pittsburgh," and the one by Chancellor S. B. McCormick of the Western University of Pennsylvania on the university's plans.

Something that seemed to contain more certainly than has existed heretofore in the future plans of the schools was hinted at by Chancellor McCormick in these words:

"The university wants a location in this section of the city. It wants 25 acres at least, and, we hope, 30 may be provided, on which to erect 20 buildings as soon as possible, and I believe that it is no dream when I speak of this as promising consummation in the near future."

Creating the Greater Pittsburgh.

Col. Logan pointed out the need of a better plan than that provided by the last legislature for carrying out the plans of Greater Pittsburgh and suggested the legislature authorizing the extension of the city's boundaries to such limits as may be found advisable on the vote of a majority of all interested.

The speeches followed a substantial dinner well served under the personal direction of John S. Kuen, proprietor of the Buckingham. As this was the first large affair of the kind at the new hotel, it marked an addition to Oakland's facilities.

The speech-making was started by President Charles H. Chance of the board who delivered a short address of welcome and introduced the toastmaster, Dr. W. J. Holland of the Carnegie museum. Dr. Holland introduced in turn Col. Logan, Chancellor McCormick, Thomas S. Brown, James J. Booth, Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag, John Dimling, W. G. Negley, W. H. Stevenson and Prof. R. H. Holbrook.

In his address on "Greater Pittsburgh," Col. Logan said:

From expressions heard from time to time one is led to believe that many of those who reside outside of the present limits of the city of Pittsburgh feel that the establishing of a Greater Pittsburgh will be wholly a benefit to the old city; those coming in contributing value to the old city for which they appear to think they are not getting a full return. I think honors are equal. If the balance hangs to one side or the other you will find that the old city is giving the weight.

Devising a Practical Plan.

Now as to a plan to bring about a Greater Pittsburgh: I believe that the practical way to accomplish this result is by some organization of citizens, who are interested in the welfare and good of the community, to take up this matter and prepare plans and specifications.

My own opinion now is that the present means of annexation at hand are not suited to the conditions that exist to bring about an effective and desirable union. The first and most practical step to be taken is to determine, based on careful investigation and comparison, what territory the Greater Pittsburgh should cover.

Lines should be drawn with respect to the topography, present population and possible future requirements of the great city. This having been done, means should be taken to familiarize the citizenship of the existing benefits and those that could be expected by such a consolidation. The legislature could then be called upon to furnish such enactment as would enable them to properly and successfully establish the union desired.

It has been suggested that only those living in the districts that are to be added to the old city should have the right to determine this question. I am not convinced that this view is entirely right.

The report of the controller of Allegheny county for 1903 shows the assessed value of the real estate, personal property and occupation in the entire county is $841,864,487 00, of which Pittsburgh is assessed with $338,839,875 00. Allegheny city is assessed with $266,196,125 00; McKeesport, $17,719,200 00; all the boroughs, $119,389,127 00; all the townships, $75,720,070 00.

Burden on the Old City.

Thus you will see that the old city pays considerably more than one-half of the county taxes and more than three and one-half times as much as Allegheny city. The value of the public property owned by the city of Pittsburgh is $19,824,675 00. The value of public property owned by Allegheny city, as estimated by the city controller, is $3,827,000 00. This will show by comparison how the two great cities would stand and without a thorough investigation I venture that the comparison of the smaller districts would be even greater in favor of the old city. Pittsburgh is now maintaining, and glad she is able to do so, public parks, boulevards, educational and benevolent institutions that are in common for the use of this entire community and better and stronger than any within her borders. I therefore maintain that Pittsburgh has much more to offer the outside territory than they have to offer us.

The registered voters, as shown by the list in the county commissioner's office for the election held last February (I did not have time to look this matter up for the last general election) shows an aggregate of 215,809 in the entire county; Pittsburgh as having 90,022, thus showing that the old city, in the matter of a vote, by no means holds the balance in power. I would therefore suggest, bearing always in mind that after a carefully selected district has been decided upon, that the legislature be asked to extend the lines of Pittsburgh to cover said territory by the majority vote of the entire territory interested. I believe it would be a manifestly fair and just act. Consolidation by any half-way or piecemeal plan would undoubtedly be more difficult and costly, and the result less satisfactory to all concerned.

Dr. McCormick spoke of the fact that the Western University of Pennsylvania ranks sixth in the order of founding of the educational institutions of the United States, and that with its eight colleges its claim to the title of "university" is beyond dispute. He devoted his main address to an enthusiastic outline of the future, and stated that his first effort will be to found a college for teachers. With the university in its expected new location in Oakland, on a site that would allow the proper expansion of its work, he promised the city an institution that would make it the chief pride of Pittsburghers. He said that nowhere could there be developed better than in Pittsburgh the greatest university of the country and that in co-operation with the Carnegie Technical schools it would undoubtedly make this the greatest center of technology in the world. His remarks were received with an enthusiasm that equalled that of the speaker.

When Director Hamerschlag of the Carnegie Technical schools was introduced an equally hearty greeting was given him. He spoke only for a few moments, saying that the schools had no past to glory in, and that all they can hold out now is a promise. The purpose, he said, was to equip the youth of Pittsburgh with the training that would make easier the hard struggle for existence.

Making Oakland Beautiful.

He said the schools come as a fitting addition to the other benefactions of Mr. Carnegie in this city, and he promised to do his part to have the schools carry out the idea of making Oakland beautiful.

"The Purposes and Benefits of Local Organization," was the subject of an address by Thomas S. Brown.

James J. Booth, in a few words, announced that the Wilmot street bridge, for which he made a hard fight, is under contract, the piers under construction and that by this time next year he hoped to see it in use. His short speech evoked much applause.

Humorous and full of fight, John Dimling announced that the efforts to remove from Oakland the two nuisances that injure it, the ore dust from the Jones & Laughlin furnaces and the smoke from the Junction hollow trains, would be continued.

"The ore dust will go and the smoke will go and we'll have a community that's fit for the gods," he said.

The other addresses were short and the dinner came to an end shortly before 1 o'clock.

PUTTING IT STRONG.

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with dyspeptics is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to the opposite extreme or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "bitters," "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now, how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained?

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leave no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia according to directions, is to eat in abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plaintly, if you take 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enlosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made, because the much abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure dyspepsia none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

MR. ROOSEVELT IS ADMONISHED

W. J. Bryan Points the Way for the President in His Administration.

ENUMERATES SOME REFORMS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LINCOLN, NEB., Nov. 17.—Declaring Theodore Roosevelt to be something of a political accident, but insisting he has an opportunity such as come to but few men in a generation, W. J. Bryan devotes a page of his forthcoming Commoner to the election of the president and what he should accomplish. He begins with an attack by saying no candidate for the presidency ever used the power of his office more openly or notoriously to secure a renomination, and continues:

"But whether the president's great victory was due to admiration for his own qualities or to dissatisfaction among Democrats, he has now an opportunity that will not return. He has announced that he will not be a candidate for reelection, and this announcement not only relieves him of anxiety, but it removes from him the blinding influences of selfish ambition. Unless he is restrained by obligations, consciously or unconsciously incurred, he can devote himself to the duties of his office with an eye singly to his position in history."

Mr. Bryan then enumerates some of the reforms with which Mr. Roosevelt should signalize his re-election. A stand on the side of the people, opposition to plutocracy and trusts, more strict regulation of the railroads and a change in policy toward the Philippines.

He concludes: "He owes his first elevation to the presidency to an unexpected event, the murder of a president. He owes his recent great victory largely to the error of Democratic leaders. Others have, therefore, given him the opportunity which he coveted; how will he employ it? His place in history will depend not upon what others have done for him, but upon what he does for the country. Let him read again the history of his country and note the difference between those presidents who have befriended the masses and those who have espoused the cause of the privileged few."

Mr. Bryan also discusses the lesson of the election as it affects Democracy, saying the rains have descended alike upon the just and unjust, and that the members of the party must stand or fall together.

W. H. M'FADDEN HONORED.

Greene County School Teacher Goes West—Girl Would Not Marry Without Father's Consent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 17.—Refused her father's consent to marry the man of her choice on their intended wedding day and obedient to her father's command, Miss Minnie Ewing, not yet 21, of Nineveh, Greene county, is disconsolate. Burn Westfall, who refused to press his suit against the wishes of the girl's family, is on his way to Oklahoma. Westfall will return when her parents relent. He is a son of the Rev. Oliver Westfall of Triumph, Greene county, and was to have married Miss Ewing last Monday.

The girl is a daughter of John S. Ewing. Westfall, a school teacher, had courted her for two years. He proposed that they be married and that she accompany him to Oklahoma where he had determined to go as his health had failed. This was agreed to and an announcement of the marriage day was made. Miss Ewing prepared her trousseau and Westfall secured the marriage license. They were to have been married quietly at the home of a clergyman. When Westfall went to the Ewing home to take his intended bride to the clergyman's, Miss Ewing's father refused flatly to allow the marriage to take place. Pleadings were futile and Miss Ewing refused to marry without her father's consent. Westfall started the next morning for Oklahoma.

ORIGINAL ROOSEVELT MAN MADE KNOWN BY PRESIDENT

The Honor Belongs to William Leary of New York, Who Managed the President's First Campaign. Got a Necessary Delegate.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—William Leary, the deputy leader of the Sixth assembly district, and an employe of the New York insurance department, who has been here resting after winning many bets on Roosevelt and Higgins, returned to New York today with a vexed question of early politics of the Empire state settled in his favor. Many men have claimed the credit of putting President Roosevelt into politics and nominating him for the assembly in 1881.

Mr. Leary has remained quiet, but he got his reward today. He called to say good-by to the president. "Here is the man," said the president, placing his hand on Mr. Leary's shoulder and turning to several bystanders, "who was responsible for my first nomination for office. It was in 1881. I wanted to go to the assembly. Leary took charge of my campaign. In the convention we had 15 delegates and the opposition had 10. Somehow Mr. Leary turned up with another delegate—how he got him is more than I know—and I was nominated by a vote of 16 to 9."

EIGHT SAILORS RESCUED IN A DANGEROUS SEA

Shipwrecked Mariners Picked Up Off Cape Henry, After a Period of Terror.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Eight shipwrecked sailors, the captain and crew of the three-masted schooner Isles Boro, who were rescued from their storm-battered, waterlogged craft after a terrible experience in the hurricane which swept the Atlantic seaboard early in the week, were brought here today on the British steamer Atholl which arrived from Yokohama. The rescue was made in the dangerous seas off Cape Henry, north of Hatteras, while the waves were breaking over the helpless craft fore and aft.

Huddled on the narrow roof of the aft house where they had been driven as the schooner settled until her decks were awash and swept by every wave, the crew of the Isles Boro had nearly abandoned hope when the steamer hove in sight, and in answer to their signal of distress sent a boat to their assistance. On the Atholl the men were given food and warm clothing and made so comfortable that they showed little effects of their terrible experience when they arrived here today.

MARRIED LIFE SUBJECT TO RIGID INVESTIGATION

So Rules Justice Clarke in the Action of Broker L. V. Bell Against His Wife.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Justice Clarke denied today the application of Evelyn M. Bell, claiming to be the wife of Louis V. Bell, the Wall street broker, to have set aside an order secured by Bell for the examination of Mrs. Kate Russell as a witness before trial of the suit to enjoin her from calling herself Mrs. Bell.

Justice Clarke also denied a motion by Mrs. Bell to compel the plaintiff to strike from his complaint certain allegations affecting her life. "The main issue is marriage or no marriage" Justice Clarke ruled. "The defendant asserts it; the plaintiff denies it.

"When the fact of marriage is attempted to be established the whole conduct, life and character of the parties during the period in question is open to inquiry because the inferences to be drawn must be affected to a great degree by such considerations.

"I have come to the conclusion that the evidence tendered would be admissible as relevant to the case."

W. U. P. AND STATE ARE QUARRELING OVER PLAYERS

OHIO U. CANCELS TOMORROW'S GAME

Bethany to Play W. U. P. Instead. Secret Practice at Pittsburgh High School.

FROM OTHER PREP SCHOOLS

The Ohio university team of Athens, O., yesterday canceled its game with W. U. P. for tomorrow. The W. U. P. authorities at once arranged with the Bethany, (W. Va.) college team to fill the date.

Bethany was scheduled to play W. and J. tomorrow at Bethany, but W. and J. called off the game and took on Waynesburg college instead. Ohio gave no reason for canceling.

W. U. P. had light practice yesterday at Exposition park. Coach Moose sent the varsity through the signals and then finished the practice with association football, which was kept up for one-half hour without any interruptions. Perry played his end in the signal practice, Schmidt being the only regular on the hospital list. He will probably be in shape in a few days.

Pittsburgh High School.

The High school eleven practiced behind closed gates yesterday at Friendship park. Capt. Wallace Johns had pickets patroling the park and no one but regular players were allowed inside the grounds while practice was on. Coach Hough lined the first team up against the scrubs for 20 minutes and in that time two touchdowns were made, McAllister and Pfeffer taking the ball over the line on straight football. The ball was then given to the scrubs and for a while the first team was on the defense. The line performed in such a manner that cheered the coaches, who now believe they will win from Shadyside tomorrow. A few trick plays were tried and in the Shadyside game these tactics will doubtless feature the contest.

The High school students are organizing bands of rooters, each having cheer masters. The student body believe their team will win the "runner-up championship" again this fall.

Shadyside Academy.

The absence of Capt. Arch Williams is being felt in the Shadyside daily practice. The players are not responding to the urging of the coaches as they are wont to do, and the feeling is prevalent that the score in the championship game tomorrow will be small.

Coaches Young and Shetter yesterday put Alex McCracken on the scrub team because he took affairs too easy. Jim McCutcheon, Curry and McCoy completed the back field, Heron going to McCutcheon's right tackle. McCracken, on the scrubs, played a strong game, especially on the offense. He will likely play his old position at fullback tomorrow.

If Capt. Williams should be unable to play tomorrow the coaches may use Jim McCutcheon at halfback. McCutcheon does most all the punting in the game, and he hit the line almost as well as Williams.

"LEFTY" M'LVEEN,
The Pittsburgh Boy on the State Football Team Who Has Been Protested by W. U. P.

M'ILVEEN IS PROTESTED BY W. U. P. AUTHORITIES

Local Collegians Say State Shall Not Play Him Against Them in the Thanksgiving Game.

The Western University means to make a strong fight on State playing McIlveen, the Pittsburgh boy. The alumni executive committee of W. U. P. last night took a stand against the Bellefonte collegians playing him in the Thanksgiving game in Pittsburgh.

W. U. P. protests McIlveen because his name was not included in the list of players exchanged in negotiations between the two colleges when the final arrangements were made for the game. The supposition was that W. U. P. charged McIlveen with professionalism because he played with the Williamsport Tri-State baseball team last summer, but this charge is denied.

W. U. P. has decided that McIlveen shall not play against its team, but State, according to reports from Bellefonte, has said that if McIlveen is barred from its lineup there will be no game.

State points out that McIlveen is an old student in that college and has played two years on the team, and because he was two weeks late in entering college this fall it is no reason for W. U. P. to protest him.

FIGHTING FOR A PENNANT.

Orator Jim O'Rourke's Action Causes a Lively Row in Connecticut State League.

Down in New Haven the club owners and officials of the Connecticut league are having the liveliest kind of a row over the awarding of the pennant. The honor is claimed by both the New Haven and the Bridgeport teams. The latter club is owned and managed by the once famous "Orator" Jim O'Rourke, who for many years was a catcher on the New York team.

A meeting of the league was called for Wednesday, and in the afternoon O'Rourke, by reason of his position as Secretary, called the meeting to order and at once proceeded to throw out two games won by the New Haven team, and this gave Bridgeport just enough of a lead to claim the pennant. A special from New Haven says that Vice President Danaher of the League issued a statement declaring that O'Rourke's action was illegal, that the meeting was called for evening, not afternoon, and that O'Rourke got his majority of one vote to overturn the championship by a fistful of proxies from league directors who say they never gave them to O'Rourke.

Some of the directors got together Wednesday night claiming that the O'Rourke meeting was illegal and was a rump session. They vetoed O'Rourke's action and awarded the pennant to New Haven. Both O'Rourke and Danaher have appealed to the National Association of Baseball Clubs to have their factions recognized.

Danaher has called another meeting for next Monday to depose O'Rourke as secretary. O'Rourke has already branded the call for this meeting illegal and says that he and the clubs that are friendly to him will not attend.

DAN PATCH SUCCEEDS, BUT LOU DILLON FAILS

First Named Lowered His Own Record, While the Latter Could Only Make 2:03.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 17.—On the association track here today Dan Patch lowered the world's record for pacing a mile on a half-mile track, the official time being 2:03 flat. The previous record, held by Dan Patch himself, was made at Birmingham, Ala., last year, being 2:03½. Time by quarters: :30½, 1:00½, 1:31½, 2:03.

The pacer broke in the three-quarters stretch and the pace setter ran considerably ahead. The recovery was phenomenal and when the king of pacers finished under the world's record there was a wild demonstration. Five thousand people witnessed the performance.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Nov. 17.—C. K. G. Billings' Lou Dillon for the second time within the last two days failed this afternoon to beat her recently established record of 2:01, regarding which time a controversy has arisen. Accompanied by a runner, the trotter, driven by Millard Sanders, her trainer, stepped the mile in 2:03 flat. The track was slightly improved over yesterday and the weather ideal. Time by quarters: :31¾, 1:01¾, 1:31½, 2:03.

THE TOD SLOAN SUIT.

French Court of Appeals Hears Case and Reserves Decision.

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The court of appeals today heard the appeal of the Jockey club against the decision favorable to "Tod" Sloan, the American jockey, growing out of his exclusion from the track. Maitre Labori, for Sloan, contested the club's claim to be exclusive judge of disciplinary measures. Decision was reserved.

Sloan brought suit against the French Jockey club for $40,000 damages for being warned off the turf in connection with Rose, Mal's winning the prix de Diane at the Chantilly races in May, 1902. On December 14, 1903, the court which heard the case found in favor of Sloan and condemned the jockey club to pay the costs of the suit, which were to be assessed later. The jockey club appealed.

McKeesport Club Adopts a New Scheme in Way of Prizes.

The match between Joe Morgan of Wilmerding and Jimmy McGivern of Turtle Creek for the 115-pound amateur championship has been arranged, and the youngsters will meet in a four-round bout at the boxing and wrestling tournament to be held in White's opera house, McKeesport, November 29 and 30. Morgan secured the title by defeating Georged Youngs of the Foster A. C. of Pittsburgh. The go will be to a decision. Both boys have gone into training.

The McKeesport Amateur Athletic club, which will hold the tournament, has introduced an innovation in prizes. Instead of giving watches the club has arranged Youngs of a suit of clothes or an overcoat. Entries are coming in fast, and the clubs in the surrounding towns are getting their men in shape.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The qualifying round at 36 holes in the fall tournament of the Country club of Atlantic City was played today at North field. W. C. Fownes, Jr., carried off the honors of the day, doing his two rounds in 78 and 79, and capturing the best gross prize with a score of 157.

The first round of match play will be held in the morning, and there will be cups in the afternoon to be played for by the three defeated eights.

Rooters Are Organizing.

The Pittsburgh Lyceum patrons are organizing "rooting" bands for the game tomorrow on the Bluff with the Steubenville team. Steubenville is also said to be bringing a bunch of loyal rooters to the game.

CRIMSON IS FIT FOR BIG BATTLE

Yale, However, Held at Odds of 3 to 1 Over Harvard, and Even Money on No Score.

BLUE HAS HARD PRACTICE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 17.—"If I were to lay a wager on the looks of the two teams I should offer 2 to 1 on Harvard," remarked a prominent Yale graduate of good football judgment today, after looking over the Harvard eleven as it trooped from its train to the special trolley cars that carried it to the Pequot club house at Morris Cove.

In weight surely the Crimson eleven has easily the call on Yale. The recklessness of some wagers made here is apparent to anyone who has seen the two teams, for no Yale money is taken by Harvard supporters except at odds of at least 3 to 1 and even money that Harvard will not score.

Harvard had light practice on the Pequot grounds. Yale Field this afternoon was covered with straw to a depth of several inches to keep the turf firm and dry and the same treatment will be given the field tomorrow after the signal drill.

The coaches decided to give the varsity eleven some hard work today and sent them in for a short scrimmage after the gates were opened. The varsity offense proved fully as strong as previously, but when the ball was given the scrubs on the 25-yard line and they were able to work it down to the 10-yard line without losing it the coaches were not gratified.

As soon as the ball changed hands again, however, Weeder, who was at left half back with Morse at right half, Flinn at full back and Rockwell at quarter, carried the ball 14 yards on one end run. The remainder of the drill was in punting and running back the ball.

Wagner's Team a Winner.

Hans Wagner's Olympian basketball team of Carnegie last night defeated the C. V. B. C. five 70 to 9. Hans played forward for Olympia and shot six field goals.

FROM THE COLLEGES.

Exeter has decided not to play the North Division High School eleven of Chicago.

The annual cane spree at Priceton Wednesday night was won by the freshmen from the sophomores.

Northwestern university will have a new athletic field next year. Sheppard field will be abandoned.

A special from Ann Arbor says that Michigan has scheduled the Western Reserve eleven for Thanksgiving.

Andy O'Dean, trainer of the Wisconsin eleven, has announced that he will not train the team next fall.

Corby Hall beat Sorin 6 to 4 for the championship of Notre Dame. The interest was so keen that a fight between the two halls was only prevented by the appearance of the authorities.

The Lehigh-Lafayette football game scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed until some later date because of the death of Dr. Thomas M. Brown, president of the Lehigh university.

Walter Runge, fullback, has been elected captain of the Colgate eleven for next year.

The report that Harvard is to play Princeton next fall has been revived. Princeton playing Pennsylvania is what a majority of football followers would rather see than Harvard playing the Tigers.

The graduate treasurer of athletics at Harvard, in his report, shows that the profit in football for this year is $57,223 30. The heaviest loss is against the crew, which is on the wrong side of the ledger for $6,481 51. The track team lost only $653 62, while the university baseball made a profit of $4,035 19. All the freshmen sports but the crew were self-sustaining.

THE FAVORITES FARED POORLY AT BENNINGS

Opening Event Was Won by a 100-to-1 Shot—Washington Society Out to See the Sport.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BENNINGS, D. C., Nov. 17.—Ideal weather, a large crowd, representing every class of Washington society and the defeat of every favorite, marked the opening of the fall meeting of the Washington Jockey club today. A large number of bookmakers were in line.

The first race was won from the favorite in a close finish by Mary Glenn, whose odds closed at 100 to 1 and against whom 200 to 1 and 150 to 1 were freely offered at the opening. The track was heavy but some good time was made in several of the races, the fourth race clipping four-fifths of a second off the record of the course. The Columbia handicap and the Bladensburg steeplechase were the features of the card. Gascar had the steeplechase contest his own way throughout, finishing at six lengths to spare. In the Columbia handicap, Mamie Worth led, but Race King, after pressing her closely all the way, won easily. Summaries:

First race, selling, for 2-year-olds and upwards, 6½ furlongs, Columbia course—Mary Glenn, 105, Barnett, 100 to 1 and 30 to 1, won; Thistle Hesther, 104, Travers, 7 to 10 and 1 to 3, second; Andrew Mack, 108, T. Burns, 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:21 3-5.

Second race, maiden 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs, old course—Chimney Sweep, 112, Crimmins, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Yeoman, 112, Redfern, 3 to 1 and even, second; Limerick, 112, D. O'Connor, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:02 3-5.

Third race, the third Bladensburg steeplechase, handicap, 3-year-olds and upwards, about 2½ miles—Gascar, 155, Helder, 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Walter Cleary, 148, Ray, 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, second; Imperialist, 165, Robinson, 3 to 1 and even, third. Time, 5:11.

Fourth race, the fourth Columbia handicap for 3-year-olds and upwards, 7 furlongs, Columbia course—Race King, 97, Crimmins, 2½ to 1 and 6 to 5, won; Cloten, 117, Wonderly, 3 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Ascension, 125, T. Burns, 12 to 5 and even, third. Time, 1:27 1-5.

Fifth race, 2-year-olds, non-winners of two races, 6½ furlongs, Columbia course—Sheen, 107, Travers, 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, won; Allemeur, 110, Redfern, 8 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Cabin, 102, T. Burns, 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:22 4-5.

Sixth race, selling, 3-year-olds and upwards, non-winners of $1,050 in 1904, 1 mile, Columbia course—Rafkal, 102, Lee, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Irish Witch, 107, Wonderly, 3 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Eagle, 100, Crimmins, 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:41 4-5.

BAD DAY FOR TALENT.

Only Two Favorites Were in Front at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—Monaca Maid, added starter, captured the Avondale handicap, the feature event at Latonia today, in a driving finish by a nose, from the heavily played favorite, Freebooter. The talent had a bad day, only two favorites winning. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Bill Knight, 103, Paul, 2 to 1, won; Hunterdon, 103, Dean, 20 to 1, second; Blythepess, 109, J. Lewis, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:14¾.

Second race, 1 mile—Idle, 99, Seamster, 5 to 2, won; Requiter, 113, W. Dugan, 7 to 5, second; Gold Spink, 107, B. Davis, 30 to 1, third. Time, 1:41¼.

Third race, 5½ furlongs—The Thrall, 102, Paul, 10 to 1, won; Firebail, 112, W. Dugan, even, second; Omealca, 102, Munro, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:07¼.

AUGUST BELMONT WILL TRY FOR ENGLISH CLASSIC

His American-Bred Horse, Lord Hastings, Will Be Trained for the Big Derby.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Another American turfman with an American-bred horse will attempt the winning of the famous English derby next year. August Belmont, chairman of the jockey club, will endeavor to win the coveted race with the American-bred colt, Lord Hastings. The supplemental nomination of the colt has been cabled by G. F. Fox on behalf of Mr. Belmont to the New Market authorities. Cabled directions were also dispatched to George Watson, who is engaged in handling and training some yearlings and 2-year-olds owned by Mr. Belmont, to at once set Lord Hastings in a gradual point through the late fall and winter for the crucial spring preparation necessary to bring up a horse to the notch commensurate with a derby engagement.

The news was heard here with genuine satisfaction and from now on the keenest interest on this side of the Atlantic will be evinced in the progress of the American representative. It is understood that Mr. Belmont has a likely enough candidate in Lord Hastings, who has come on in splendid style within the last 10 weeks. So well has the youngster filled out and improved in his turf gallops that Watson only last Saturday communicated to New York the advice to keep him qualified in the famous English classic. The trainer's tip has been acted upon. After his return from England last August, Harry Payne Whitney described Lord Hastings as the best American bred colt in the English lists and on English ground since the time of St. Blaiz and Fox Hale.

Lord Hastings is by Hastings, out of Lady Violet, hence a full brother to Lord of the Vale and Lord of the Valley.

TO STOP BIG RACES.

Ordinance Presented in New York Which May Prevent Six-Day Events.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—An ordinance which, if it becomes law will effectually put a stop to the six-day bicycling races and many other sports of endurance in this city, has been presented to the board of aldermen and referred to the committee of highways. The proposed ordinance provides that in any bicycle race, or other contest of skill, speed or endurance held within the limits of the city of New York, it shall be unlawful for any contestant to continue for a longer time than three hours during any 24 hours. It further provided that no such race or other contest shall be held except between the hours of 7 o'clock a. m. and 11 o'clock p. m.

Provision is also made for the better enforcement of the statutes bearing on the question of unlawful use of drugs in connection with contests of endurance.

There Is No Better Clothing Sold Anywhere.

SOLOMON'S

K. SOLOMON & COMPANY, Smithfield and Diamond Sts.

For This Friday and Saturday We Announce

Our Thanksgiving Display of Hand-Tailored Clothing

In accordance with our custom we have prepared for this, the Saturday before Thanksgiving, a showing of Men's attire which is authentic in every detail and presenting a complete review of the season's best fashions. The difference between hand-tailored clothing as sold by us and the inferior machine-made garments, usually put forward elsewhere, is at once and at all times noticeable. The hand-tailored attire retains its shape, always looks stylish, insures correct fit—its advantages are too apparent to need elaboration. At the prices we quote there is no doubt of the wisdom of the investment—so if you have Thanksgiving apparel to buy and want it right get it here.

Men's Aristocratic Paddock Overcoats

There can be no doubt about the exclusiveness of the paddock coat—they are the ultra-stylish garments of the season. Those we show are strictly hand-tailored from the finest imported and domestic materials. This is a garment which requires expert treatment in the cutting and tailoring and when rightly made has that style that cannot be imitated. Our coats are perfection in every detail, priced from..... $25 to $50

Long Belted Overcoats and Raincoats

We show a wide selection of these long fancy coats, numbering the latest brown effects, as well as other mixtures and overplaids. The coats are cut with broad shoulders and hang full and gracefully; have the half belted back and all the other details which go to make a cleverly designed overcoat. Also genuine cravenette rain coats, in plain or fancy effects. Prices range from..... $12.50 to $35

Men's Short Topcoats

Just the right weights for present wear. Made of fine covert cloths, in the correct shades of tan, olives and greens, as well as fine black unfinished worsteds. These are tailored with broad shoulders, hand-worked collars and lapels and cut so as to exemplify the smart boxy effect wanted by dressers who know what is right. Some full silk lined and all with satin sleeve linings. Priced from..... $10 to $30

Men's Fashionable Suits

Single or double-breasted sacks, in three or four-button styles, are the most wanted and these we show in the latest patterns of fancy cheviots and cassimeres, including the new mahogany and wood browns, novelty mixtures and overplaids; also plain colorings and black. At every price we show an up-to-date garment which will give satisfaction. Choose your Thanksgiving suit from these priced from..... $10 to $35

BRADLEY MARTIN STARTS BOOM IN HIGHLAND KILTS

Since His Appearance in the Scotch National Costume When Wedding Miss Phipps, Orders for Kilts Have Poured in on Tailors.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

EDINBURGH, Nov. 9.—From one of the craft I learn that Scotch tailors have an American to thank for a sudden boom in a particularly well-paying branch of their trade. Since young Bradley Martin distinguished himself by appearing in Highland kilts on his wedding day quite a number of orders have been received by makers of the national costume, who believe a real revival in kilt-wearing is coming and are correspondingly elated. Fashionable kilts are expensive garments. The materials employed are costly, and only skilled hands, who have served a long apprenticeship at the work, are competent to make them. In consequence of the sudden "boom" many workmen in "tartans" who for some time have had to content themselves with poorly-paid labor in the army clothing factories in London, where uniforms for the Highland regiments are made, have crossed the Tweed again and are finding steady employment at excellent wages in the fashionable outfitting establishments of Edinburgh, Aberdeen and Inverness. While the canny Scots openly ridicule the taste displayed by American sojourners in their midst, who insist on arraying themselves in Highland garb, they have a shrewd appreciation of the money to be made by ministering to their folly, and devoutly hope that next season every American who shoots over a Scotch moor will feel it incumbent on him to wear glorified kilts.

The lavish and ostentatious display of diamonds and other costly jewelry at the Bradley Martin wedding was seized upon by some journals, both Scotch and English, as a text for unctious discourses on the vulgarity of wealthy Americans. It is a case of those who live in glass houses throwing stones. Fashionable English weddings are by no means characterized by modest simplicity. Opinions may differ as to the taste displayed in making elaborate, semi-public exhibitions of the wedding gifts, but there can be no question that the custom generally followed of sending to newspapers for publication detailed descriptive catalogues of them, often with the price of the articles attached, is astrociously vulgar. Rich English folk are just as fond as rich Americans of showing off their wealth, and if the Americans usually make the finer display it is because they generally have the most money.

NEW SHIP IS INVENTED FOR COAST DEFENSE

Is Floating Battery Resembling Inverted Bowl, Surmounted by Heavy Guns.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers elected officers today as follows: President, Francis T. Bowles; vice presidents, Washington L. Capps, United States navy; Frank L. Fernald, United States navy; Philip Hichborn, United States navy; Frank E. Kirby, Chas. H. Loring, United States navy; G. W. Melville, United States navy; G. W. Quintard, Charles W. Rae, United States navy; Edwin A. Stevens and Stevenson Taylor.

In a paper on "The Semi-Globular Naval Battery," Anson Phelps Stokes gave a description of his recently invented coast defense ship, which he has named the Cerberus. The plan provides for an immense floating battery resembling an inverted bowl, surmounted by gun turrets and conning towers. Its diameter at the base will be 180 feet, the height from the base of the battery to the top of the armored portion of the smokestack 90 feet, and her draught, with full load, 36 feet. Her displacement at 36 feet draught would be 24,650 tons. A system of elevating the great guns by shifting the center of gravity of the whole vessel by means of movable ballast permits the use of much larger and longer guns with stronger chases, longer chambers and proper muzzle swell, and without gun carriages, than on battleships. A system for revolving the vessel horizontally does away with the need of turrets and barbettes for these larger guns.

Mr. Stokes claims the Cerberus would be an impregnable coast defense ship, and at the same time a powerful battleship able to go a long distance under her own power.

OPENING WIRELESS STATIONS.

Commercial Telegraph Business to Be Enlarged Along the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The navy department has authorized the commanding officer at the torpedo station at Newport to accept dispatches to and from ships at sea by way of the Nantucket lightship under regulations drawn by the bureau of equipment and to be published in a notice to mariners.

Orders are being prepared opening to commercial business the following naval coast wireless telegraph stations: Portsmouth, N. H.; Cape Ann, Mass.; Boston and New York navy yards; Cape Cod; Montauk, L. I.; Navesink, N. J.; Cape Henry, Va.; Dry Tortugas, Fla.; San Juan; Culebra and Mare Island navy yard. Other stations will be opened in a few weeks.

VanCott is Discharged.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Richard VanCott, who was charged with aiding and abetting in colonization in the fifth assembly district, where he was defeated for the assembly in the last election, was discharged by Justice Wyatt today on the ground of insufficient evidence.

Unusual Tribute to H. J. Heinz Co.

"The first and only time in history that a world's fair has awarded a prize for the thing and for the treatment of the people who make it!" exclaimed a prominent author and lecturer when he heard that the international jury of awards at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, St. Louis, had conferred two grand prizes on H. J. Heinz Co.—one for the excellence of their food products, the other for the welfare work among their employes.

Unconsciously the jury sitting in separate divisions did a most logical thing. The Heinz preserves, pickles, baked beans, relishes, etc., are of highest quality. They are made of the best materials by employes who are happy and comfortable, working in a clean, sanitary factory, and developed to a high degree of heart and hand efficiency.

That's why the "57 varieties" are good. (High-grade work people produce high-grade results.)

Telegram from E. White in New York yesterday says: "Purchased at Alexander, Smith & Son's Carpet Company's auction sale $123,000 worth of carpets and rugs, of all grades and sizes. Arrange for sale starting Monday, 21st."

ATTORNEY HOLDS UP WARRANT FOR $1,600,000

Refuses to Make Settlement With State Until His Fee is Paid.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The attorney general today rendered an opinion in which he holds that a treasury warrant issued in favor of the state of Massachusetts and now held by a local attorney here under a power of attorney on the plea that his fees have not been paid, must be turned over to the state, and that should the attorney refuse so to do, the warrant should be canceled and a new warrant issued to the state.

About a year and a half ago congress appropriated about $1,000,000 to reimburse the state of Massachusetts for expenses incurred in fitting out troops during the civil war, including interest and premium on gold paid by the state. Previously the state authorities had entered into a contract with a Washington lawyer to act as state agent in looking after the claim, and agreed to allow him 10 per cent of the amount received. The attorney now holds the warrant and refuses to turn it over to the state until his fee of $160,000 is paid. The state contends that the fee is grossly excessive, and makes other allegations tending to show that the attorney is not entitled to the fee claimed.

The attorney general holds that the warrant belongs to the state and that the attorney has recourse to the courts to establish his rights in the matter.

EVENING OF MUSIC.

Enjoyable Organ Recital Given in St. Andrew's Lutheran Church by Clarence Eddy.

An organ recital was given last evening at St. Andrew's Lutheran church, Center and Morewood avenues, by Clarence Eddy, the eminent concert organist, assisted by a double quartet consisting of eight of Pittsburgh's best amateur singers. These were Clarence C. Rinehart and J. W. Rosser, first tenors; H. Ross Lynn and D. J. Hicks, second tenors; John R. Roberts and Rudolph Oehmler, first bassos and Edward M. Wagner and Charles S. Beggs, second bassos.

Owing to the number of organ recitals which are given in this city yearly, there has been fostered here a love for organ music which is extraordinarily strong, and which was evidenced by the large audience which filled the main auditorium of the church.

Mr. Eddy had arranged a well-balanced and attractive program of a character to display not only his truly marvelous technique, but also his power to infuse sentiment and color in every phrase. The finest things of the program were the three choral preludes by Brahms. The program opened with the beautiful concert overture in C minor by Alfred Hollins. Other exceptionally great numbers were the Guilmant fifth sonata, Handel's "Largo," Bach's G minor fugue and the "Pilgrim's Chorus" by Richard Wagner.

Mr. Eddy's reputation is too well known to need any recommendation to the musical public, but in last evening's concert he seemed more than ever before to prove himself the perfect master of his chosen instrument. He knows every resource of the wonderful mechanism of the pipe organ and employs them to their best advantage.

There were no attendants, but Dr. Johnston played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal couple entered the parlor, the bride attired in a simple gown of white batiste and Valenciennes lace. An informal wedding supper was served in the dining room. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Umbey will be at home in Walnut Grove, near Homestead. HEARD SHAKESPEAREAN "CYCLE OF SONGS"

Grace Wassal's Musical Conceit Is Enthusiastically Received by Gotham Audience in Carnegie Hall.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Artistic and musical New York crowded Carnegie hall this afternoon to hear the first interpretation of Grace Wassal's Shakespeare "Cycle of Songs." The cycle has for its basis sonnets and excerpts from plays of the poet, and at the hands of Mme. Johanna Gadski and David Bispham, assisted by Marguerite Hall, contralto, and Kelly Cole, tenor, it received the artistic treatment it merited.

The applause given the various numbers was unstinted, indeed, when Mme. Gadski sang the sonnet, "Then Hate Me When Thou Will," it was so prolonged that the manifestation could be stopped only by a repetition of the number.

The handling of the themes by Mrs. Wassal is musicianly to a degree, the coloring being delightful, and the contrasts vivid and effective.

Seen the "De Miracle" Display?

The crowds in front of May's window attest to the attractiveness of this exhibition. A girl with the De Miracle removes from her lip the growth of superfluous hair.

The girl is a wax figure, but a wonderful piece of mechanism, which you shouldn't fail to see.

De Miracle is the new method for removing superfluous hair. It is a new principle—sure, safe, quick, painless and inexpensive.

It is the only method indorsed by physicians and surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

SUGAR AND COPPER LED NEW YORK STOCKS

A Score of Issues Advanced to the Highest Prices of the Year and the Market Closed Buoyant. Local Market Irregular.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The strength developed by the New York stock market yesterday was a surprise alike to the professional trader and the general public. There was some expectation that with the resumption of private wire service the public would seize the opportunity—the first this week—to take profits. This feeling was strengthened by the reactionary tendency of the market on Wednesday and by the continued weakness in foreign markets. London quotations for American securities showed declines ranging from ½ to 1 per cent, and the heaviness of Canals gave color to reports of uneasiness abroad concerning the situation between Great Britain and Russia over the North sea incident. But the wonderful buying power behind the movement in Wall street was again demonstrated, and stocks were readily absorbed.

Opening quotations showed considerable declines, but the heaviness did not last beyond the first hour, and for the remainder of the session the market steadily gained in strength and closed buoyant. More than a score of prominent securities at both extremes of the railroad and industrial list advanced to the highest prices of the year, but the two most prominent issues were Amalgamated Copper and Sugar. Both these stocks have recently been the favorites of tipsters, and when a prominent Boston speculator early in the day paid 85-008 for the privilege of calling 15,000 shares Amalgamated at 82½ before 3 o'clock, and offered to pay $10,000 to call 25,000 shares today at 85, there was ground for expectation of lively speculation in the stock. The latter opened at 77¼, reacted to 77¼, and then began its rise which never halted until the price reached 81⅝, the highest for more than two years. The close was at 80⅞ bid, a net gain for the day of 2⅝ per cent.

The movement in Sugar was almost continuously upward from the opening at 147¾ until late in the afternoon, when it touched 153. From this point there was a violent break to 149, which occurred right at the close of the market, and was accompanied by active and enormous selling.

While these two stocks dominated the trading, there were numerous other specialties which at times became prominent in the dealings and advanced sharply. New York Air Brake advanced from 153½ to 161½ and closed at a net advance of 3½ per cent on a report that the company had signed a 10-year contract with the New York Central and its affiliated lines. American Smelting made a new high price by advancing to 80½, and it closed at the top. The remarkable activity in mining operations is the basis for the strength in this stock. United States Steel stocks rather lagged behind the general list until late in the afternoon, when the common rallied to 27½ and the preferred to 88, its previous high point, and both closed at substantial net gains. However, Tennessee Coal and Iron was the strongest of it group, advancing from 72½ to 77½ and closing at 76⅞ bid, a gain of 2⅝ per cent. Colorado Fuel and Iron closed 1¼ per cent higher.

In the railroad list there were many points of interest. In the early part of the day Canadian Pacific was a feature and advanced to 135. Chesapeake & Ohio was at times very active and rose to 50⅝, the highest of the year. Detroit Southern preferred made a new record, advancing to 30¾. Kansas City & Southern was another strong member of the low-priced group. Norfolk & Western reached a new high level at 76⅜. During the latter part of the afternoon the strength extended to the old-time leaders and Union Pacific reached a new high mark at 115⅞. Pennsylvania advanced to and closed at 137, St. Paul advanced to 174¼, and Manhattan to 169⅜. The excitement in Sugar and Copper in the final dealings distracted attention from the general list, but the market closed strong.

Call loan rates were easy and unchanged at 2 to 2½ per cent, and time loans were freely offered at 4 per cent. The only interesting feature about the weekly statements of foreign banks was the increase of $5,875,000 in gold and the decrease of $25,000,000 in loans reported by the Bank of France.

At the opening of the local stock market traders were apparently influenced by the weakness which appeared in New York stocks at that time, and while New York soon recovered, there was no corresponding recovery here, and the result was an irregular market. Crucible Steel preferred was the weakest at the opening and sold off 2 points to 45, from which there was a rally to 46¾ at the close. The common declined ½ point to 8¾ and closed at 8½ bid. United States Steel was extremely inactive, but closed fractionally higher. Westinghouse Air Brake was the strongest stock, and made a new high record by advancing to 150, closing at that price bid, a net gain of $4 a share. Westinghouse Electric was dull and unchanged at 87¾ to 87½, but Switch and Signal advanced to 80 and closed at 79½ bid. Pittsburgh Coal was quieter than for several days past, the common moving within the narrow limits of 21¾ to 21½ and the preferred between 77½ and 78. Rivers Coal preferred was weak, closing at 30 bid, 30½ asked, a decline of $2 a share from Wednesday's high price. The common also weakened to 11¾ bid, 11½ asked. American Sewer Pipe was strong, advancing to 27½, and Fire Proofing preferred recovered a small fraction, closing at 41½. The Natural Gas stocks all closed lower.

No Air Brake Merger.

Both the Air Brake stocks moved up to high marks, New York to 161½ and Westinghouse to 150. Strong movements in these stocks are almost invariably accompanied by rumors of a possible merger, and these rumors always originate in Wall street. On previous occasions they took the form of absorption of the eastern concern by the Westinghouse company. Yesterday the usual order was reversed, and Wall street had a rumor that the New York company would absorb the Westinghouse. Local officials have become weary making denials of these stories. Another report was that the New York Air Brake Company had closed a 10-year contract with the New York Central and allied lines for the use of its apparatus. Even if true, there is probably room enough in the United States for two air brake manufacturers, inasmuch as there are 45,000 locomotives and over 1,000,000 passenger, freight and baggage cars in use, subject to constant wear and tear and replacement.

Call Money Was Easier.

Heavy offerings of call money on the New York exchange broke the rate late in the day to below 2½ per cent. The tone of the money market was called harder, however, and bankers expressed expectations of higher rates. Foreign exchange moved upward again and sterling at Paris declined, raising the pressure thus on our gold supply. The Bank of England maintained its discount rate, although the weekly return again showed a decline in the percentage of reserve. The Bank of France gained $5,875,000 in gold for the week, but the further fall in sterling at Paris indicates that its requirements are not yet satisfied.

Amalgamated Copper.

More than 200,000 shares of Amalgamated Copper changed hands in New York yesterday. This stock, considering the history of some of its past movements, has advanced rather soberly in the recent market, measuring its pace apparently by the continuous rise in the price of copper. Yesterday reports from the copper market pointed to a further reactionary tendency perceptible for many days. But this did not discourage the buying of Amalgamated Copper in company with the buoyancy of copper shares all over the world. Violent manipulation was also discernible in the market and demonstrative offers for future privileges on the stock at the demand keep. After rising through 80 the stock rose with added facility and seemed to uncover stop orders on the bear side.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

While the total sales on the Pittsburgh exchange yesterday were smaller than the day before, the business was well distributed over the list and throughout the session. There were few large blocks of stocks changing hands, and there was less manipulation than for several days past. Late in the afternoon one lot of 500 shares Pittsburgh Coal at 21½, changed hands, Bayley to Speer Bros., and Hall bought two 200-share lots of Sewer Pipe from Miles & Montgomery.

Holmes & Sons and Whitney, Stephenson & Co. were buyers of Westinghouse Air Brake on the advance. Offerings were smaller than might have been looked for, considering the advance of $11 a share during the past two days.

It was reported yesterday that about 2,500 shares Pittsburgh & Duluth Mining changed hands at private sale at 25½, and at the close of the market there were no offerings under 26.

Pittsburgh Oil & Gas bonds were offered on the exchange at 88.

Telegraphic service between Pittsburgh and New York was not fully restored yesterday, but most of the local brokers enjoyed the use of their private wires during a portion of the day. It is expected that there will be first-class service today, and a 2,000,000-share market in New York is among the probabilities.

Hon. Robert B. Armstrong, assistant secretary of the United States treasury, will deliver an address at the regular meeting of the Pittsburgh chapter of American Institute of Bank Clerks, in Carnegie Music hall next Tuesday evening. Mr. Robert Wardrop and Mr. W. S. VanDyke will also take part in the proceedings.

J. K. Frye has withdrawn his application for membership in the Pittsburgh stock exchange, having sold the seat bought by him this week. G. W. Henderson of Hill & Co. has transferred his membership in the stock exchange, contingent on the election of H. W. McKee. The latter is now engaged in the real estate and insurance business, and was formerly a partner in having been a member of the old Pittsburgh exchange, and being associated with N. W. Stevenson, who is a member of the stock exchange.

Private sales were reported yesterday of Commonwealth Trust at 200, Lincoln National Bank at 250—no bid or asked in advance, and Iron City Trust at 144½@145.

A sale was reported of Union Natural Gas at 100, and that price was bid for more.

The First National bank of Oakdale, Pa., has purchased a lot 40x80 on State street and will soon begin the erection of a commodious banking house.

Inquirer—A stock certificate bearing the proper signatures and the seal of a corporation is not invalid because it was issued and dated November 1, election day. The preferred stock of a preferred stock are usually set forth in the certificate. Whether or not this might be essential in any particular case would be a question for the courts to decide.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is said to be the largest individual owner of United States Leather common stock. Every time the latter advances the story is revived of a plan to retire the preferred stock in order to strengthen the position of the common. It requires the consent of 50 per cent of the preferred stock to any movement affecting a change in the securities of the corporation. If, however, the holders of the preferred stock were offered par in cash for their preferred stock and a cash bonus or securities for the 40 per cent accumulated dividends, it is considered quite possible that holders of 80 per cent would agree to the proposition.

The gross earnings of the Southern Pacific for September decreased $125,710, and the net increased $62,561. For three months of the fiscal year gross decreased $825,674, and net increased $224,881.

American Cereal directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent, payable November 30. Quaker Oats directors have declared the regular dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, payable November 30.

National Carbon directors have declared a dividend of 1¾ per cent on the common stock, payable January 3. This will be the first dividend on the common stock ever received. Officers state that this action does not place the stock on any fixed dividend basis.

Detroit City Gas Company directors have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on the capital stock, payable December 1 to stock holders of record at the closing of the books November 10.

The $25,000,000 new Rock Island 4s, which were sold at 93½ and interest, are now quoted at 94 bid.

The proceeds of the new Japanese 6s sold in this country will not be remitted to London, as in the case of the last issue, but will be carried on balance in American banks to pay for the purchase of war supplies in this country. The issue of £12,000,000 6s, of which £9,000,000 will be sold here, brings the national debt of Japan up to 3,004,913,951 yen, or $552,459,475.

One circumstance which is likely to militate against the promised boom in the small industrials is that the New York banks in the last day or two have been inclined to protest against any considerable proportion of "junk and dogs" as collateral for loans. Brokers, of course, can "sell" these among a great number of loans, but any close scrutiny means that such stocks cannot form in the aggregate 30 per cent of their collateral.

"The principal reasons assigned for the advance in Norfolk & Western is that its earnings are making an excellent showing for from present indications the stock will be placed on a 4 per cent dividend basis about six months hence. There is not a great deal of floating stock. Investors looking for a security having investment features combined with speculative possibilities have been picking the stock up for months past. In addition to 25,000 shares purchased by H. C. Frick there have been other large accumulations by persons who know the property and who are practically certain that a larger return on the investment is only a matter of a short time. The fact that the road's coal traffic, which constitutes a large proportion of the total business, has shown a growth of nearly 1,000,000 tons for this calendar year tends to confirm the belief that it is a good and improving property."—Wall Street Journal.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Tonopah Extension Company has begun litigation to legally determine the contention that the apex of the vein recently developed is on its own property and not on the property of the MacNamara, as claimed by the latter. The Extension has obtained a preliminary injunction against the MacNamara, and is confident of winning its case in court.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Midland Mining Company was held in New York this week behind closed doors. Some 15 stockholders were present and steps were taken, it is understood, to forfeit the properties held by the company at Silverton, Colo.

On the First Thought mine at Northport, Wash., ore is being shipped to the Granby smelter at the rate of 20 tons a day. The shipments will soon be increased to 60 tons daily.

The Gloster gold mine, located at Marysville, Cont., the home of the Drummonnon, was sold by the Seligmans of New York to a syndicate of Helena capitalists last week.

The Boston Consolidated Mining Company at Bingham, Utah, has been forced to suspend stoping in its mines for about a week past because of an inability to secure lumber for timber purposes.

James F. Hill, the Colorado smelting man, has returned from a two weeks' trip to Franklin, Wash. Mr. Hill is securing options on ore tonnage. He says that in consequence of the building of the Kettle Valley Line railway he has just about decided to start a custom smelter at Grand Forks, B. C.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The metal markets showed less activity today and seemed to be hesitating. Prices were pretty well held, and in some instances slight advances were noted, but the general upward movement appears to have been halted pending fresh developments. The London copper market was a little higher, closing at £55 17s 6d for spot and £56 7s 6d for futures. The local market was quiet and without change at $14 50@14 87½ for Lake Superior; $14 50@14 75 for electrolytic and $14 25@14 62½ for casting. The London tin market also reported a slight advance at £132 12s 6d for spot and £132 2s 6d for futures. Locally, the tin market was quiet and a shade lower on the outside prices, or at $25 87½@26 20. Lead was unchanged with quotations ranging from $4 20 to $4 70 in the local market. London was off a little, closing at £12 17s 6d for spot. The London spelter market was firm at £25 2s 6d. Locally, the metal was also a shade higher, closing at $5 50@5 60, iron closed at 51s 6d in Glasgow and at 46s 1½d in Middlesboro. Locally, iron is firm. No. 1 southern and No. 1 foundry southern, soft, is quoted at $16 50@17 00; No. 2 foundry northern at $16 00@16 50.

WALL STREET MARKET "BOILING" AT CLOSE

Purchases by Short Interests, It Is Thought, Facilitated the Sharp Recovery.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says:

The stock market was irregular yesterday, but showed a decided increase in the volume of trading, particularly in the late dealings. At the outset prices were depressed, chiefly as a result of foreign selling, and the market dragged for an interval. But first, under the influence of aggressive professional operations in the specialties, prices hardened, and then in the later dealings the standard railroad stocks became exceedingly active and strong, and the market closed "boiling." It was bought by shrewd market observers that a short interest had crept into the market in recent days, tempted by the excellent character of the distributive selling. Recovering purchases by that element, it was thought, facilitated the sharp recovery at the close.

"There was practically nothing in the news of the day to account for the late outburst of activity. All Wall street, however, was informed that the United States circuit court of appeals at Philadelphia was going to hand down a decision in the Northern Securities litigation today, and that this decision would be favorable to the Harriman contention. All operators, large and small, bear the story. Union Pacific interests said they had no information on the subject. They did not know, they added, whether a decision would be reached today, next month or next year, and they did not know what the findings would be. Naturally they expressed the hope that their contentions would be upheld. This rumor was apparently the sole influence in working the late activity.

Pig Iron Warrant Quotations.

Americans opened quiet, irregular and mostly below parity, rallied generally, Chesapeake & Ohio being strong, and closed firm. Grand Trunks were a feature on disappointing traffic returns. PARIS, N

GOOD SALE OUT FIFTH AVENUE

H. Saul Buys the Susman Holdings at 1345-1347 for $45,900.

TWO NINETEENTH WARD SALES

Through the agency of George C. Norris & Co. and I. Goldstein the property at 1345-1347 Fifth avenue has been sold by Jacob Susman to H. Saul, the shirt manufacturer, for $45,900 cash. The lot is 43.3x40 feet and adjoins the property of the Fifth Avenue Bank at the corner of Stevenson street. On the lot are two three-story brick buildings, which rent for $2,800 a year. Mr. Saul will occupy one of these with his business and remodel the other for an up-to-date storeroom. This is the first sale in this neighborhood for some time and figures at the rate of $1,068 a front foot.

Nineteenth ward property continues to be the best seller of any East End holdings. Judging by the number and importance of the deals reported the past month. Yesterday two more good deals were made known, the purchaser in both cases being the Republic Realty Company. The properties belonged to J. E. and U. A. Taupe and were sold for $28,000 and $22,000 respectively. The larger purchase was of 5.20 Wellesley avenue, about midway between North Highland and Euclid avenues, and nearly opposite the Highland Presbyterian church. The residence is a large stone and frame house with all modern improvements, and stands on 50x150 feet. The other property consists of 75x100 feet at the southeast corner of Euclid avenue and Hays street. The plot is improved with three 10-room Pension hall brick houses. Both purchases were made for an investment.

Is Considered a Bargain.

A Penn avenue deal announced yesterday is of more than usual interest, as being the only transfer of property in that square for over a year. Through the agency of Page Brothers & Co. James Gallagher sold to a local business man 1202-1204 for $18,500, or about $600 a front foot. The lot is 33x50 feet and is a short distance beyond the Union station. It is improved with two frame store buildings, which rent for $100 a month. Other similar holdings in that square having a full depth of 100 feet are held firm at $1,200 a front foot and property in the square in which the deal was sold some time ago for about $1,000 a front foot. It is said that the Gallagher lot will be improved soon with a better building.

The Real Estate Trust Company yesterday closed a deal totaling about $70,000, but owing to technicalities the announcement cannot be made for several days. This feature of the realty market, a striking one at present, for although it is known that there is a strong undercurrent of buying, very few deals are coming to the surface since election. That there is plenty of business going ahead is shown by the number of brokers who are engaged in getting options on valuable properties, both downtown and in the residence districts. Now is the time for these brokers had the courage to take up this work, as they considered it folly to submit a high-priced property to even an old-time buyer.

Now in Committee's Hands.

At least 16 brokers are anxiously awaiting the action of the high school site committee, which met yesterday at the Hotel Schenley to consider the properties offered. Several sites were visited and two new properties were submitted to the committee. It is expected that a recommendation will be made soon and that the matter of purchase will be taken up at the regular meeting of the board the second Tuesday of December. The Eleventh ward school board has placed itself on record as against the Magee site by instructing its representative, John T. Fox, to vote and use his influence against the purchase of that property because of its undesirable location and high price.

Daniel Brady has sold to J. M. Petty a vacant property measuring 4.0x308x111x285 feet in Millwood avenue, extending through to Neville street extension, for $1,900.

Brokers are taking much interest in the condemnation proceedings instituted by the county against the Smith lot in Old avenue, which is a part of the site for the jail addition. The property is valued at $2,000 a foot, and is the last one of the lots in the site to be settled for.

Sales Made by Brokers.

Millvale avenue: Page Brothers & Co. sold for C. B. McLean to Timothy J. Hickey five lots, 21x106 feet each, on the west side of Millvale avenue, between Penn and Friendship avenues. Two were cleared, for $1,300. The buyer will build five $6,000 brick houses.

Barnsdale: A. C. McComb & Co. sold for John C. White a farm and creamery at Barnsdale, Butler county, for $6,500, to D. A. Hunt Sons, who tendered in exchange two brick houses in Youngstown, valued at $5,000.

Mt. Vernon street: The Real Estate Savings & Trust Company sold for M. W. Watkins and George Rose to Anale M. Cooper a frame house on 33x100 feet, in Ridgley avenue, Tenth ward, Allegheny, for $5,000.

Mt. Vernon street: H. J. Holland sold to Catherine Gilbert an improved lot 20x93 feet, in Mt. Vernon street, Twenty-first ward, for $2,300.

H. W. Klein sold for Marion H. Murphy, Esq., five two-story brick dwellings in Minnesota street, near Greenfield avenue, to C. H. McCauley for $12,000, lot 90x120. Mr. Murphy accepts in part payment the last of Mr. McCauley's holdings in the Loretta plan, Sewickley—four lots valued at $8,000, the balance being paid in cash.

Borland & Waddell have sold to James H. Canfield 5527 Columbo street, Nineteenth ward, for $7,500. The lot is 30x110. The house is solid brick, containing 11 rooms. Price, $7,500. The premises will be occupied by the purchaser as a home.

J. H. Young & Co. sold for W. S. Burchfield to R. and F. G. Conley 50x137 feet in Burchfield street near Shady avenue, Squirrel Hill, for $3,000. The buyers own other property in Shady avenue and are having plans drawn for several brick houses which they intend building.

The Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection issued the following permits yesterday: To Samuel Cooper, brick two-story addition to dwelling at 1512 Forbes street, Sixth ward, to cost $2,700; to F. H. Schmidt, double two-story and attic dwelling in the rear of Ella street and Orwell alley, Sixteenth ward, to cost $2,500.

DIVORCED KING LOSES COURTIERS

Officials and People Urging Him to Take Back Ex-Crown Princess Louise.

FEARS TO OFFEND THE KAISER

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—King Frederick August of Saxony is in a terrible dilemma. From all parts of the country people have been sending him letters and petitions urging him to take back his divorced wife, ex-Crown Princess Louise, now known as the countess of Montignoso. Even the members of his own court are trying to influence him, although he had made it known that whoever dared to mention his ex-wife's name would be immediately discharged from court.

One high official after the other has defied the commands of the king, and it looks now as if he is to be left alone in his royal castle at Dresden without any courtiers, and probably without any servants. The first man to brave the will of his royal master was Chamberlain Von Shimpff, who was immediately asked to resign, and the same fate overtook Master of Ceremony Von Haugk, who had dared to say a word for the ex-crown princess to her former husband. Then followed a few days, during which the courtiers, who realized that the king was really in earnest, kept quiet, but day before yesterday the chief marshal of the royal court, Count von Eckstaedt, and Assistant Marshal Baron Carlowitz Hartitz made another attempt to bring about a reconciliation between the divorced royal couple, and their discharge immediately followed. It is said that it was the wives of all these court officials who put them up to influence the king. As a matter of fact, it is especially the women of Saxony who call for the return of the ex-crown princess.

The king himself is growing exceedingly melancholy and greatly misses some of the men he himself has sent away from him. He shows no sign of any intention to give in though. The general opinion is that if it were not for the hatred of the kaiser for his divorced wife he would take her back without waiting a single day.

OWES HIS FIRST DUTY TO INJURED PERSON

So Declares Dr. Gilbert, a Railroad Surgeon, in Address to His Brother Officials.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Modern methods of surgery as applied on the great railroads of the country were discussed today at the annual meeting of the New York and New England Association of Railroad Surgeons. Dr. L. L. Gilbert of the Pennsylvania spoke of the surgeon's professional obligations to the injured over and above its relation to the company that employs him. He said the first duty of the surgeon was to the injured person, regardless of the effect his case might have on the treasury of the corporation.

SCHOOL TEACHER CHARGED WITH INJURING GIRL PUPIL

NEW BRIGHTON, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—James Hart, a school teacher in North Sewickley township, was held for court in $500 bail by Justice of the Peace J. C. Calhoun yesterday for alleged maltreatment of Myrtle McDaniel, 14 years old. The girl was a pupil in his school and he whipped her. Dr. C. C. Hazen testified that the girl's shoulder had been dislocated and her back showed 30 welts. Hart has resigned.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS GOES TO BULL FIGHT

EL PASO, TEX., Nov. 17.—The national irrigation congress adjourned at noon to allow the delegates to witness a bull fight in Juarez, Mexico. Senator Newlands of Nevada and William E. Smythe of California during the afternoon withdrew from the race for president in favor of Gov. Pardee of California.

LONDON LUNCHES KING AND QUEEN

Portuguese Rulers Are Escorted Through Befogged Streets to the Guild Hall.

FELICITATIONS EXCHANGED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—King Charles and Queen Amelia of Portugal passed in procession through the streets of London today and had luncheon at the Guild hall as the guests of the lord mayor and corporation. As a pageant the royal progress through the lamplit streets of the city could not be regarded by even the most enthusiastic as a success. An opaque fog, which at some points of the route was so dense that it was impossible to see more than 50 yards ahead, veiled the overhead decorations and the troops lining the route and escorting the sovereigns hid their bright uniforms under heavy great coats. The crowds were not large, but nothing was lacking in the warmth of the reception accorded to their majesties. Addresses were presented to them by the local authorities at various points along the route. One of these was typical of all. It neatly referred to Queen Amelia as follows:

"Sprung from France, born in England, wedded to Portugal, she has linked the three nations, which we trust will always be found in close association with one another."

At the Guild hall Lord Mayor Pound and the lady mayoress in their corporation robes of office awaited the royal visitors. A procession was formed and proceeded to the library which was filled with cabinet ministers, peers, members of the house of commons, officials and officers of both services, the prince and princess of Wales being among the distinguished gathering. An address in a gold casket was presented to King Charles and the presentation of officials and others to the king and queen followed and then the city's 800 guests filed into the large hall where luncheon was served. The lord mayor toasted the king of Portugal who in reply referred to the long standing alliance between Great Britain and Portugal and hoped it would continue for all time. At the conclusion of the luncheon the royal party returned to Windsor.

PURPOSE OF NIXON VISIT.

Bishop Whitehead Expresses Himself on the Temperance Question—Line Can Be Drawn.

"I did not question Bishop Potter on the subject of establishing a Subway tavern in Pittsburgh," said Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead yesterday, "but accompanied him through the barroom and kitchen of the Nixon restaurant to show him just how the interior of a Pittsburgh saloon is equipped.

"I do not say that a Subway saloon should be established in Pittsburgh, but I do think that if Pittsburgh capitalists would unite in the establishment of drinking places where there would be no treating, where a line would be drawn between malt and spirituous liquors and where there would be no temptation to get drunk, it might be a step in the right direction. There should be temperance in all things, even in reform."

Apropos of the recent visit of Bishop Potter to the city, an Episcopalian whose absence from the church club reception was noticed, was asked why he had not attended. He remarked, "Really I can hardly say why. With our most prominent American bishop gracing by his presence the opening of a drinking saloon, and another one officiating prominently at the consecration of a monastery, I am really at a loss to know exactly where I am, and I am taking a little time to think the matter all over."

GEISHA GIRLS MUST GO.

Young Women from Orient Who Came to World's Fair Cannot Remain in This Country.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—On the report of Immigration Inspector Dunn at St. Louis, the department of commerce and labor today ordered the deportation of 14 Geisha girls and six Chinese who have been employed in a concession at the Louisiana Purchase exposition.

The case has been pending for several weeks, and a hard fight was made by the representatives of the Geisha girls to induce the government authorities to permit them to remain in this country. It is said that on the statement of facts set out in Inspector Dunn's report the authorities could do nothing less than order the deportation of the women.

TOOK NEW STYLE LIFEBOAT FOR A LIVELY LEVIATHAN

Whaler Almost Fires an Explosive Bomb Harpoon at the Strange Craft Off the Norwegian Coast. Ship Has Eventful Voyage.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. JOHNS, N. S., Nov. 17.—The curious egg shaped lifeboat Uradd, which arrived here yesterday after a passage of 100 days across the Atlantic had a very eventful trip. Four days after leaving Aalsud, Norway, she was chased by a Norwegian whaler, which supposed the was a leviathan and was about to fire an explosive bomb harpoon at her when her crew signalled and prevented what might have been a dire disaster.

The Uradd voyaged by the Shetlands, Faroes, Iceland, Greenland and Labrador, and met prolonged periods of stormy weather which tested her seaworthy qualities to the utmost. Many ordinary vessels would have succumbed, but she rode the waves like a duck. Crossing south of Greenland she narrowly escaped being sunk by ice floes with which she became enmeshed during the night. Escaping this danger through the activity of her crew who fended off the ice and got her into safe waters, she met another storm which lasted two days, during which the four men were battened down nearly the whole period, emerging at rare intervals to breathe fresh air.

Five weeks ago she met a tremendous hurricane, which carried away her single mast and main sail. Since then she has drifted with a small sail and through the aid of the currents toward land. A fishing boat sighted her and towed her safely to port. She will refit here and probably continue her voyage to New York on Monday.

FRANCE FAVORS RECONVENING OF THE HAGUE CONFERENCE

Italy Consulting Triple Alliance—Will Negotiate Arbitration Agreement With America.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, Nov. 17.—A further conference between Ambassador Porter and Foreign Minister Delcasse relative to reassembling The Hague peace conference has shown that the minister is cordially favorable to the proposition thus practically assuring its acceptance by France.

ROME, Nov. 17.—Although favorable in principle to the re-convocation of The Hague peace conference Italy has not yet answered the proposal of the United States officially as an exchange of views on the subject is in progress among the powers forming the triple alliance.

The foreign office has informed Ambassador Meyer that Italy is quite favorable to the conclusion of an arbitration treaty with the United States and will empower Ambassador Mayor des Planches to sign it in Washington.

BERNE, SWITZERLAND, Nov. 17.—Arbitration treaties will shortly be concluded between Switzerland and the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Austria-Hungary, Germany and Sweden and Norway.

THE THREE RIVERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—The stage of the river at 6 o'clock this evening was 4.0 feet and falling. Weather clear and pleasant. Today's departures were: The Lizzie Bay, Louisville. The river is getting lower here every day, and with few exceptions all of the boats both low and packets, are tied up. Many of the larger towboats are along the banks between here and Pittsburgh with empties at their bows waiting for more water.

GALLIPOLIS—River 2 feet 5 inches and falling. Weather clear and cool.

WARREN—River three tenths of a foot. Weather clear and mild.

POINT PLEASANT—River 1 foot 2 inches and stationary. Clear and cool.

PARKERSBURG—River 2 feet and stationary. Weather clear and warm. No boats.

OIL CITY—River 8 inches and stationary. Weather clear and cool.

GREENSBURG—River 5 feet 8 inches and stationary. Weather clear and cool. Rose Hite will pass down Friday and Columbia up.

EMPTIES ARE DOWN RIVER.

Coal Mines Are Shutting Down Because of Lack of Boats.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 2.2 feet and the river was rising slowly.

Owing to the absence of most of their empties, the coal companies of Pittsburgh are gradually shutting down their mines until a rise in the rivers permits the return of the boats. Only five of the 40 mines of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company are now running. Nearly 900 of the company's empties are stranded at points between Pittsburgh and Louisville. Out of about 50 boats only three small towboats are working. It is said that a rise of fully four feet will be necessary to help the coal companies to any great degree. Enough coal is now loaded for four trips, it is said, and as the supply down river, except at Cincinnati, is good, no particular anxiety is felt as to the situation.

The fog yesterday morning was the heaviest of the season and caused considerable anxiety along the rivers. Most of the steamers on duty were obliged to anchor till the fog had lifted.

Owing to low water a number of boats are tied up at Cincinnati to get needed repairs. One of those which has been on the ways for some time is the Keystone State.

The Rose Hite was four hours late in reaching Pittsburgh yesterday because of the fog. She was due to leave for Morgantown in the afternoon.

The Bessie Smith left Wheeling for Parkersburg yesterday morning with a big trip aboard and a lighter. She returns to Wheeling Friday.

PRODUCTION IS INCREASED IN THE COKE REGION

Contracts Being Placed Owing to Fear of Famine—Price $1.80 in Some Instances.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, Nov. 17.—In the Connellsville region the coke production increased last week nearly 2,000 tons. The Masontown field increased its output more than 3,000 tons, breaking all records. The outlook is very encouraging. The sudden increase in the demand for iron and threatened scarcity of water in some parts of the region has led some consumers to fear a coke famine, with the result that contracts that were being held back are now being placed. Where $1 00 was considered a high price two weeks ago it is reported that $1 80 was received on some of the recent contracts.

A summary of the Connellsville region for the week ending November 12 shows a total of 23,187 ovens, with 16,281 in blast and 6,856 idle. Most of the changes in the active and idle lists were the result of an insufficient water supply. The Chalfonte, Nellie, Continental No. 1 and Youngstown plants have been compelled to close down, and will remain idle until a supply of water can be had. These additions to the idle list were partly offset by the firing of 464 ovens at Trotter, 160 at Nargerita and 71 at the three Hecla plants. The Hecla plants are also short of water and unless rains set in soon may be forced to suspend operations. Of the 78 active plants in the Connellsville region last week 60 plants (14,961 ovens) made six days; five (816 ovens) made five days; two plants (480 ovens) made two days, and one plant (464 ovens) one day, and the Semet Solvay plant of 80 ovens made seven days, an average of 5.82 days. The production for the Connellsville region amounted to 194,433 tons, an increase of 1,147 tons over the week previous. The shipments aggregated 9,319 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh and river points, 3,488; points west of Pittsburgh, 4,681 cars; points east of Everson, 1,250, a net increase of 123 cars. The shipments were 15,244 tons in excess of the week's production. Shipments from the Masontown field aggregated 11,774 cars, estimated at 49,672 tons, an increase over the last report of 3,036 tons.

UNITE TO FIGHT PETTY PILFERING

Twenty-One Gotham Department Stores Have Combined Against Shoplifting Evil.

LOST $500,000 IN ONE YEAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Losses of half a million dollars through shoplifting have been suffered during the past year by 21 department stores in this city, whose proprietors have now formed an alliance to fight petty pilfering. Today a woman was given a 15-day sentence after having pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing goods valued at $5.04 from a department store.

Hitherto the storekeepers have been willing to let offenders off with a fine, and the court as a rule has acted accordingly. Before sentence was imposed today the attorney who had prosecuted the case said his firm had been retained by an alliance of 21 department stores to prosecute every case of shoplifting.

"The shoplifting evil has become so great," said he, "owing to the leniency of justices of special sessions, that it is a very serious matter to the firms concerned."

The several justices declared they believed they had been too lenient in shoplifting cases, because most of the defendants had been women. Justice Wyatt, speaking for the entire bench, said he would make the woman's sentence severe enough to serve as an example for others. He announced the next prisoner convicted on such a charge would get a 30-day sentence.

YOUNG MAN KILLED IN ROW OVER CENT

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—A dispute over 20 game of cards at West Hamlin, 20 miles south of here, resulted in the killing of John McComas, a well known young man, this evening. Local Wabash Line to Buy More Freight and Passenger Engines

New motive power to care for the increasing demand of both freight and passenger business will shortly be secured by the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal railroad. The need of more engines has been felt for some time past, and the business given to the road from the mines of the old Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad & Coal Company along the West Side belt line has been steadily increasing and emphasizing the need of locomotives. Wabash, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Western Maryland engines are used now.

It is the wish of the company to start passenger service along the West Side belt to Pittsburgh as soon as the power can be secured. It is recognized that such service means a great change in the availability of the section as a residence district for men employed in Pittsburgh. President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash, was in Pittsburgh yesterday and with the local officials of the company discussed conditions here. He spent but a few hours in the city, going to St. Louis headquarters on the afternoon train.

Winter Schedules Causing Trouble.

The railroad officials are having considerable trouble in arranging the winter time cards. At least four changes considered are of importance to the public. The first is the order to have the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley use the Union station instead of the Federal street station for several of its passenger trains. The second change arranged, but cancelled at the eleventh hour, was that the West Penn passenger trains use the Brilliant cut-off and enter the Union station. Another change arranged, but cancelled, was the permission given to the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh to run its trains into the Baltimore & Ohio Water street station, instead of the Pittsburgh & Western station in Allegheny. The fourth change effecting the traveling public is the abolition of several stations along the Pennsylvania railroad.

C. & P. Gives Stock for Improvements.

The Pennsylvania railroad announces that it has for sale 80,00 shares of guaranteed 4 per cent dividend paying betterment stock of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, par $50, carrying dividends from December 1, 1904. Treasurer Tatnall bids are invited for the whole or portion of the issue, to be submitted to him by November 28. Under the lease of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh to the Pennsylvania, dated October 25, 1871, the former company is obligated to furnish to the lessee from time to time security, either in the form of stock or bonds, for the purpose of providing for improvements to the property. The stock, which has been delivered to the Pennsylvania, will be listed on the New York stock exchange.

Altoona Roundhouse Completed.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's new roundhouse at Altoona built at a cost of $1,500,000, will be formally opened next Monday. It has been used to house shifting engines in the lower yard for some time, but next week the freight engines of the Pittsburgh division will be moved to the new house. Later the freight engines of the middle division will be moved there.

Will Erect New Station.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company has planned to erect a new freight station in Homestead. The site is in Fifth avenue, near the present station, and sufficient room has been secured for a large depot and additional tracks.

Will Not Issue 5,000-Mile Books.

The appeal of the commercial travelers to the railroads for a 5,000-mile inter-territorial mileage book was refused at the last meeting of the Central Passenger association. The association once issued a 5,000-mile book, which was withdrawn September 1, 1903, the last issue was good for transportation up to September 1, this year. The fund which provided for this book was cleaned up, except $215, which remained in the hands of the bureau. The committee has arranged for the distribution of this fund. The railroads have made a notation that such mileage is not profitable.

Railroad Notes.

R. S. Blickensdorfer, general manager of the Wabash-Pittsburgh terminal, is in the city on a business trip.

A. M. Schoyer, general superintendent of the Ft. Wayne system, has gone to St. Louis for a few days' visit to the fair.

Shipments of coal and coke originating on the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad east of Pittsburgh and Erie, for the week ending November 12, aggregate 887,640 tons. For the year 1904 up until November 12, they were 34,643,582 tons.

NEW THOUGHTS.

Are you growing more attractive as you advance in life?

"Given a healthy body," says Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., "and a healthy mind, and everyone can cultivate and enjoy happiness."

We must eat properly and digest well to be beautiful. It is a fact that any form of dyspepsia may in a few days transform a clear, white skin into a mass of pimples and black spots. A beautiful woman has the beauty of her stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery maintains a person's nutrition by enabling one to eat, retain, digest and assimilate the proper nutritious food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and thus the person is saved from those symptoms of fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common. A tonic made up largely of alcohol will shrink the corpuscles of the blood and make them weaker for resistance.

"This is to certify that I have used Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, think it's the grandest medicine in the world," writes Mrs. V. M. Young, of Weir, W. Va. "I had dyspepsia in its worst form. I decided to try your medicine. I used five bottles, and now I am doing my own housework. A number of my friends also are using Dr. Pierce's medicine and they recommend it highly. May God bless you in your grand work."

Dr. Pierce believes that a tonic made with alcohol will shrink the red blood corpuscles and make the system weak for resistance; that is why he avoided the use of any alcohol or narcotics in his "Medical Discovery," which contains the pure extract from roots and herbs without a particle of alcohol.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for dyspepsia or debility.

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.
